What's in a Hunk?

by A.F. DeBlase

When I want to use a generic term for an attractive man the word that comes to mind is "hunk". I'm often asked what I mean by the term. To some, I guess, it means big and beefy, a football player type. That is not what I mean.

Like beauty, "hunkiness" is in the eye of the beholder. Some get turned on by cute, slim, young blond boys, others by grizzled, hairy, beer-gutted truck drivers. One of the hottest descriptive words among today's Leathermen is Bear. But even among the bear lovers there is considerable variety in the key characteristics of a bear: Does he have to be big, or just big for his height? Does he have to be bearded, or have a hairy body? Some like grizzly bears, others polar bears, or pandas, or even teddy bears. Can a furry, bearded man with a swimmer's body be a bear? Is a bear still a bear if he shaves his chest and chin?

This past weekend I was a judge at the Mr. San Francisco Leather contest. After that I went to a party at the 15's clubhouse and the next day I recovered by watching several Zeus videos, including USSM 3. I had displayed before me at each of these events a wide variety of male shapes, sizes and characteristics and I was surprised at the wide array of male shapes I found hunky. There is probably a coefficient between the horniness of the viewer and the hunkiness of the viewed but I could find something attractive about nearly every man I saw.

I like muscular men and I like lean men, not necessarily a contradiction since, to me, the hottest combination of all is a well defined lean body with the movement of every individual muscle visible under the skin. Great masses of bulging muscles don't necessarily turn me on, unless I think of those broad expanses of back and chest and thighs as whip targets, broad areas for my whip to caress, thick muscles to absorb the shock of heavy blows. I don't like big guts or soft bellies (Thank God not everyone shares this aversion!) and I really like furry chests. I find that a beautiful furry chest will go a long way to make me ignore a soft gut. I like big men, as mentioned above, as targets, but I also like little men, men small enough that I can pick them up and sling them over my shoulder, men I can tie up and move around with ease.

I like good looking men, handsome faces that could be on models in GQ or in the hair on his body! I like facial hair. The only thing that says man to me louder than a beard and/or moustache is a cock and balls. I prefer cocks large and uncut, but I like them small and cut too. Most of all I like them hard, showing me that they are enjoying themselves.

Sometimes little things can make or break an image. One friend is turned on by the little curl of hair that some men have in the small of the back above their ass. Another I know gets an instant hard at what he calls "wing nut ears". I find a hairy forearm sticking out of a shirt sleeve, or long hairs curling over the top of a T-shirt more sexy, well... nearly as sexy, as a well filled basket.

Attitude can be at least as important as appearance. As a 98% Top I can do without arrogance, superciliousness, or, at the other end of the scale, total impassivity. But I do like self confidence, even a bit of cockiness. When looking at photos, in a magazine or as they come across my desk, I love a facial expression and body language that registers

International Male catalog. I also like rugged looking men who could never get their image in these publications in spite of their perfect bodies. I like heads of long hair, short hair, curly hair, straight hair. I like it long enough that I can bury my fingers in it and force a head back, I like it short so that it feels like sandpaper as I run my hand over it. I even like a bald head, the top of the head is the least important place for a man to have a bit of fear, or of begging, or of defiance. And sometimes, I see a photo of a beautiful, muscular, hairy man with a look of such command that it triggers my 2% and I want to fall to my knees and lick those balls!

What defines a hunk? It is different for every person, for every instance. In Drummer we try to give you a great variety of men and hope that you will enjoy at least some aspects of them all.

CAUTION

Every decision a person makes, including the decision to get out of bed in the morning, has some degree of risk associated with it. We strongly believe that each competent adult must set for themselves the level of risk he or she is willing to accept. Some avoid crossing streets in heavy traffic—others stunt-ride motorcycles without a helmet. However, to intelligently confront and accept risk, a person must understand the dangers.

While Drummer hopes to educate its readers on a wide variety of topics, its main purpose is to entertain! Works of fiction presented in this magazine are just that—fiction! They are not in any way intended to suggest or describe activities that anyone should—or often could—actually do. They are meant for entertainment only. In other than fictional pieces, we will emphasize safe sex with respect to contagious diseases, and safe and sane behavior with respect to all activities, and will try to point out all activities which deviate from recognized safe-sex and safe-and-sane play activities.

MALE CALL

MISSED CONNECTIONS: NICK OF VIRGINIA

Please publish the letter below. Nick of Virginia talked to me (3) times by phone to come for a visit, which was connected with my ad in Nationwide—first ad on page 80.

Our arrangement was that he was to call me on Good Friday, March 29, 1991, to get final instructions to get my house. That day, I had several incoming calls but when I picked up the phone, it went dead. I am sure Nick called and I couldn't answer because the phone was out of order. I could make long distance calls, but I didn't have Nick's phone number or address to contact him about our phone problem. I didn't get phone service back until late Saturday afternoon. I can't blame Nick if he got mad and thought I didn't want to call him. Please get this in Drummer, issue 148... [Sorry, it's 149]

Nick, I am sure you tried to phone me, but the phone was out of order. Every time the phone rang, I picked it up but the line went dead. I called the phone company repeatedly to have the phone service fixed. It was finally fixed late Saturday afternoon. If you don't believe me you can call the telephone repair number at 1-413-555-1611. I also left the outside light on until 3:00 am hoping you would come. I can't blame you for being pissed off. If you read this, please call again at 1-413-267-5278.

Sincerely,

Fred/Monson, MA

GOH MISHIMA, GO!

Alongside your Hojo-Jitsu video review (Drummedia, Drummer #144) was an illustration by Goh Mishima, whose work I would like to see more of. I wrote to Dragon Publishing (the video source), but they knew nothing of the artist, nor were they aware of your video review. Could you tell me anything about Goh Mishima? Or could you suggest a source I might turn to for further information on the artist and his work? I have written to International Wavelength, but have not yet heard back from them. Thanks for your help.

Sincerely,

D.J.L./Portland

If you like Goh Mishima's work, you'll probably also like Sadeo Hasegawa's. Mishima is not so easy to find (and we are watching carefully), but there is a very fine book of Hasegawa's work available right now from Gay Men's Press. (Reviewed in Drummer #146)

PRAISE & PANS FOR DRUMMER PAST & PRESENT

I've been buying Drummer magazine for seven or eight years now, and it never ceases to amaze me! It just keeps getting better and better! While I've always purchased Drummer for the articles (you believe me, don't you?), lately I've found that I'm getting much more out of it.

The departments, such as Mr. Townsend's Notebook, the calendar and the club list have provided several opportunities to meet with a few select groups and participate in an occasion or two. But I'm particularly impressed with continual running of Male Call and Off The Top. It's convincing evidence that if you're interested in the issues, this is the place to find them. Jan Lyon and Susie Sheperd's letter had to be one of the best yet. But, admittedly, Male Call is great for a good laugh once in a while.

I'd like to commend the staff of Desmodus, Inc. for your efforts in providing us with a source of entertainment, information and a sound voice in our democracy. Drummer has done nothing but improve with age. The literary content is the best on the market and the photography is excellent. The Mr. Drummer 90-91 photo spread was great. The erotic artwork seems to be a standard set for most gay publications. Boys, you are really good! You should know that. Keep up the excellent work. Now, to put you to task, let's see if you can come up with your hottest rubber spread ever. Thank you for your continued efforts.

D.M./Alaska

I just picked up a copy of issue 145 and was it great. It reminded me of the way Drummer used to be when I was in college. That story and drawing by Etienne was incredibly hot. To have Etienne and Caveio in the same issue is like having a wet dream cum true. Please feature more works by these artists. How about showcasing some more of the Zeus "Tightropes" Video scenes. I think some bondage shots of Luke Bender and Charlie Warren would be great. Keep up the good work so we can keep it up.

S.B./Columbus, Ohio

P.S.: What happened to the Hun serial work you were showing? Show more Etienne works, please. You could have a contest where people submit a fantasy/story and Etienne picks his favorite and illustrates it.

Your P.S. is very interesting and we're looking into the possibilities there. Thanks!

JWB

I would urge your magazine to consider how your artwork, photos, etc. are being authorized.

Most of your public reads Drummer for fun and for SM sexual news; most of us are fairly on target masculine men.

The picture on the cover of issue 145—Mr. Ron Brewer, a very handsome man, is a disgrace. If I (we) wanted a star gazing, wistful model, we would have bought G.Q.

I, and most of us, have a good sense of humor and are able to put the whole SM lifestyle in perspective, but converting Drummer to a heavily stylized (the whole sequence, pp. 50-54) magazine, with a cover none of us can relate to, is bastardizing the magazine the way it used to be.

I'd be interested in your response, which I'm certain would be defensive and contrary, in Off The Top.

Sincerely,

T.O.B./Philly

Sorry to disappoint you. Both in the photos and my reaction to it. I think the photos show two hot LeatherMen enjoying each other. Diverse opinions are not only accepted, but expected.

AFD

The pictures you have printed on pages 48 and 49 in the current issue are fine but essentially all the same, which is a waste of space. All are the same people doing the same thing in the same pose. You should have the people in different poses doing different things.

J.C./Winter Park, FL

Actually, I like the use of similar photos in serial groups, and I find the fantasy-supporting power of photos like these of Christian and a Drummerboy very good. AFD does too. We try to please as many people as possible, as often as possible... and that includes people like ourselves sometimes.

LEATHER NOTEBOOK

By Larry Townsend

Dear Mr. Townsend, Sir!

I am a slave with a master who controls my orgasms as well as my hard-ons. He says that sometimes I must experience orgasm, only so that I can remember how good it feels, and more deeply appreciate the deprivation when I'm not allowed to come for days or even weeks at a time. But during these periods of deprivation I still have to serve him and his friends, who all sit around naked, sometimes stroking my peepes, then punishing me if I get a hard-on. I sometimes cry, because I know I may have to go for such a long time without an orgasm, even though I am living in a house where sexy, handsome men are running around naked and having sex in front of me that I can only watch, and never personally enjoy. I know I must be totally owned by my master, but I still wonder (and here is my question) if I am going to experience some physical harm from having my load of come bottled up in my balls for such extended periods of time. Please answer me, and I hope my master reads your reply.

slave billy hard-on masochist cocksucker

Dear sbhmc,

You are lucky to have a master who holds you in high enough regard to put you through your paces. Although my medical advisor tells me that consistently holding back one's orgasms can cause an inflammation of the prostate over a period of time, there is no imperial evidence that men experiencing this problem (which usually occurs later in life) would not have had difficulty anyway. It seems a cheap price to pay for the privilege of your present existence. There are a great many guys out there who would change places with you right now!

Respectfully, sir:

My Master, who lives in Pennsylvania, and a couple of his ex-Marine buddies near D.C. exchange slaves sometimes. They use your slave handbook, and so I thought maybe you would be the man to answer a question for me. I don't know if I can get this mailed. It's not easy for me from my pen, but maybe with help from the guy who comes to clean the place I can get a stamp and have him mail it for me. He likes to play with my piss slit and tits, so he owes me even if I am to submit and not ask favors. Some time ago some lucky slave wrote you about taking two clasped hands up his cunt, and you advised him, so I thought maybe you could answer a question for me. In order to keep me cleaned out for fisting, my Master has been giving me enemas so often and for such a long time that now I can't crap without them. I know I have no rights, and after the workouts, particularly on my ringed tits, I am just a piece of jelly without a will of my own. I know I am totally dependant on my Master, but I thought if that other slave could write you, maybe I could, too. I just wonder if all these enemas are going to leave me permanently unable to empty my bowels without them. I wouldn't take the chance of writing you, but I really am worried about this.

slave bill, Harrisburg PA

Dear slave,

Without a physical examination, it's impossible to answer your question with any degree of certainty. However, my medical advisor seems to feel that your present symptoms do not necessarily indicate any permanent damage. All that water going up your ass has probably washed out the colonic bacteria that are normally present, and which are necessary for "regularity." Once the enemas stop, if they ever do, you can quickly rebuild the culture by drinking fruit juices, eating yogurt, etc.

Dear Larry,

I note that both in your column (some time back) and more recently in an advertising blurb in your mail order brochure, you advise guys not to pop their chrome anal eggs out, into the toilet. You point out that this can shatter the porcelain, etc. (I would also note that it can lead to the loss of the egg, if it gets down the pipe before you can retrieve it.) I'd like you to know that my friend and I overcame the problem by purchasing a "portable bidet". These are plastic inserts that fit over the toilet bowl, and are only a few inches deep. They are quite inexpensive (about $11.), and can be purchased in most major drug stores. Perhaps you will want to pass this along.

D. B., Indianapolis IN

Dear D. B.,

Thanks for the info. Like your eggs, its being passed.

Dear Larry,

Some months ago I started a subscription to Drummer, and after reading several issues I realize that there is a great difference in your (Americans') attitude toward circumcision, and that of us as Frenchmen. Whereas most Americans seem to have had the operation, it is very unusual in France. In all my active sex life (I'm 59) I have only met two guys who were circumcised. Although both were beautiful men, I felt badly for them that they had been cut off. To play with one's skin is a real pleasure, and for a man not to ever be permitted to do this is a terrible loss. Why does this happen so consistently in America? A number of years ago, I discussed this with a friend of mine, and he suggested that it might be because of the many Jews in your medical establishment. But, among Jews, circumcision is not a medical act. Can you satisfy my curiosity?

J. B., Paris, France

Dear J. B.,

It is, indeed, difficult to understand how routine circumcision was able to become so well entrenched a practice in the United States. Obviously, our medical establishment has been responsible for convincing American mothers that their sons would enjoy a "cleaner" existence with their foreskins removed. Perhaps some doctors honestly believed this, although I would question whether, in many cases, it wasn't simply a matter of selling an additional service for a few extra bucks. Of course, with our long-standing puritan ethic, our masses have continually regarded anything sexual as "dirty" - and this would certainly help to explain how it all happened. And as to the Jewish influence, who knows? Most of my Jewish friends believe in circumcision, although a few do not. I doubt that Jewish influence within the medical profession would have been enough, in and of itself, to turn the tide; but it may have been a contributing factor. Your guess is as good as mine.

If you would like to have Larry Townsend address a particular problem or issue, you can write him c/o Leather Notebook, Drummer, PO Box 410390, San Francisco, CA 9414-0390

pisswimp and Me

by Ernest Bumbury

illustrated by R.A. Shultz

I drank the warm British beer with no particular appreciation. It was weak, and suggested what piss from an old horse might taste like. In the mirror, a young man's reflection watched me drink. Occasionally he took a mouthful from his own mug. He licked his lips and straightened his leather vest over his grey T-shirt. He was a little too neat, as though his leather was a costume, rather than a real part of him. I ignored him.

Despite the beer, which is uncommonly bad throughout the kingdom, the British pub is an institution in a class of its own. It is a place to socialize, a place to drink, a place to meet friends; it is England's public living room. Gay pubs offer more than that, and my favorite in London is the Old Montreal, near Marble Arch. The main floor caters to everyone, but the basement is a wonderfully open club of gay men who share a beer together on their way home from work or whenever they want to meet a friend. I drained the mug and noticed that I was still being watched.

He looked British—sandy hair, wispy moustache, and the kind of skin which suggested he had been born in a dark bar, and had never emerged into sunlight. Or maybe he had just lived in the gloom of London too long. He looked at me deliberately and took a drag on his cigarette, making the glowing tip flash twice at me in the mirror. I set my mug down in its circular puddle, stretched my legs, and took a long cigar from my vest. I lit it, looked deliberately at the tip, then faced the mirror and took two drags on the stogie, sending two hot red signals to the eyes watching me. I headed for the loo.

The Gents' at The Old Montreal is down two steps, with a long low, porcelain urinal to receive your piss—long enough for five men to stand side by side.

The ceiling is low over the trough, and there is a weak florescent tube down the center of the room. The fixture hummed and provided an undulating bluish light, as though it were starved for electricity. If you're over six feet tall you have to crouch a bit. At six-three, I crouched. I leaned forward, bracing myself against the wall, looking at the stained porcelain, smelling the steamy piss of a thousand men who had drained themselves into this receptacle since it had last been cleaned, listening to the steady drip of water into the piss trough, and waited. Weak sounds of laughter echoed from a ventilator near my head.

The door creaked open, admitting a gush of music from the bar. The sandy-haired boy entered tentatively and walked to the piss trough. He stood there, his eyes down and his hands behind his back, and said nothing. A pisswimp, I thought; time would tell.

I had not unzipped, and neither had he. He gave me a sidelong glance, and I puffed on the stogie a couple of times, then nodded slightly. He let out a sigh of relief, lowered his zipper, and pulled out his cock—limp, uncut, pale-looking in the florescent light. He stood there silently, the cock pointing toward the trough. I said nothing, and a long minute passed.

"Please, Sir," he almost whispered. His cock seemed to twitch as he tried to maintain control of his full bladder.

I shook my head, denying him relief, but said nothing. He stared fiercely at the steady drip of water from the flush pipe. I looked directly at him now, and held the cigar between my teeth. He turned toward me, his cock poking out from his jeans. The foreskin covered the head fully and tightly, only a tiny hole showing.

"Please, Sir, I've got to go." I shook my head again, just twice, slowly, and watched his cock twitch as he asserted control over the sphincter muscle. The door creaked open, and I locked his eyes with mine. He did not move, but remained facing me with his cock out, a compass needle magnetized in my direction. A tall, black dude entered and smiled at me behind Pisswimp's back. I held the wimp's eyes with my own while the black dude pulled out a huge cock, stroked it a couple of times, and released a broad stream into the trough, splashing loudly. The sound continued for at least thirty seconds, then became a series of audible spurts as he squeezed out the last of the beer which had filled his bladder. He sighed contentedly, shook off the drops from the thick black head, and returned it to his jeans.

"Ahhh," he said again, punctuating his satisfaction with a loud zip of his pants. "Feels good to let go, doesn't it." It wasn't a question. He smiled at me again, and I responded with a puff of the cigar and a very slight smile, mostly for the Pisswimp's benefit. "Have fun," he said, winking at me, and left.

Weak music descended again from the ventilator. Pisswimp still stood in front of me. I saw the beginning of a drop of piss forming on his foreskin, and raised one eyebrow in warning. He closed his eyes tightly for a moment and gritted his teeth, regaining control for a moment. I studied the ash on my cigar deliberately as he watched, tapped the hot ash off so that it fell just an inch from his protruding cock, then gestured toward the door with my head. I moved toward the exit, and he quickly stuffed his cock back into his jeans and followed me, unrelieved.

He sat next to me at the bar this time, and I drained the last few drops of the lager from the mug. Lager is what the Brits call something which approaches beer in taste, but it's served warm. The bartender saw me finish and wiped up the puddle with a half-soaked rag. I wondered if he chewed the rags in the back room after closing time. "Another pint of lager, mate?" he asked, and I showed him two fingers. He returned with the two pint mugs and I laid a five-pound note on the bar. He returned in a moment with a couple of one-pound coins and some silver. I left it on the damp bar.

I pushed the second mug toward Pisswimp, met his eyes in the mirror, then took a long draught and stared at him. He knew what was expected, and did the same. I noticed that he held his thighs together tightly, as though the pressure would somehow relieve the urge he was feeling. I turned from him and watched a pair of muscled guys playing what the Brits call a "fruit machine," no pun intended. The reels ground to a stop, showing a plum, an orange, and a bell. "Shit this bloody thing's fixed," said one of them, looking in my direction. I held up my mug in a salute, then took another long draught. I turned toward Pisswimp, gave him a hard look, and he drank too.

He licked his lips after drinking, set down the mug, and leaned toward me. "Please Sir, I've really got to go. I can't hang on much longer. If I don't go soon I'll wet my pants." I smiled at him in the mirror, and drained my mug completely.

When he didn't follow my example, I pressed my leg against his and gave him a hard look in the mirror. He finished his beer, and pressed his knees together. This was a guy I could work with, I decided.

I slid off the stool, stretched my legs, and headed for the Gents' again. He was off his stool in an instant, and followed at my heels until we got to the john. I let him open the door for me. It was time to teach him what I had in mind for him—to expand his own understanding of himself a bit.

We both stood at the trough, listening to the water drip. He looked at me, his hand on his zipper. I nodded slowly and watched as he gratefully unzipped and hauled out his cock for the second time. It was harder this time, and I could see veins along the top surface. But the foreskin still covered the head. I wondered whether he skinned it back when he pissed, or whether he just let it out in a torrent through the tight foreskin. He knew better than to let it go without my permission, and he looked at me, genuine pleading in his eyes. I smiled broadly and shook my head again, slowly, refusing him permission to release the load of piss which he strained to hold.

"Oh, please Sir, I need to go," he blubbered at me. "Please let me go now Sir! I'll do anything, anything for you, but I have to piss, Sir." He was facing me now, and I sensed the urgency he was feeling. It was good for him.

I reached down, loosened his belt, and undid the button at the top of his jeans. His pants dropped to the floor, and he stood there with his cock hanging out over his balls, pointed toward me in the florescent light. I reached for it, and he spread his legs as far as his trousers would allow. I held it gently for a moment, then slowly slipped the skin back, exposing the damp, pink, head. He closed his eyes, and was clearly savoring the feeling of another man's hand on his meat. I cupped his balls gently, then stretched them slowly, feeling the two globes and letting my fingers slide over the skin of his scrotum. He inhaled deeply. I pressed against his pubic hair, just above the pubic bone, and felt the fullness of his bladder.

"Ahhhh," he said, trying to keep control. "Please Sir, I need to piss. What can I do for you? What can I do to make you happy?" It wasn't a game any more. I fixed his attitude. Besides, the beer I had drunk had reached my own bladder, and would become a problem soon. "Sir?" he asked. I had not spoken to him yet, but I decided he deserved an answer now, especially if this was going to go somewhere.

"You'll do as you're told," I said. "And you'll like it. I promise you that."

"Yes Sir," he said quietly. "I like your voice."

"Pull your drawers up and get ready to go." He did as I told him, stuffing his cock and balls into the tight jeans just before zipping. I extended my arms and said, "Now lean back on me—just fall into my arms. Trust me."

He looked at me oddly, as though trying to decide whether I might mug him, or whether I was as gentle as my voice suggested. In the end, he trusted his judgement and let himself fall back against my chest. I held him tightly, letting my fingers feel his nipples as I spoke right into his ear.

"If you do as you're told, I'll take you on a trip you won't believe."

"Yes Sir, whatever you say. I really have to piss, Sir." He was near blubbering again.

"Listen to everything I say before you do anything. I want you to piss now. I'll tell you when to stop, and I expect you to stop then. Is that clear?"

"I don't know if I can stop once I start, Sir."

"You will stop when I tell you to. That is the first step in learning who controls your piss. Piss now—START!" I commanded.

There was a moment of tension in his body as he discovered that he had been clamping down so long that he really had to work to let go. Then I could hear it—the murmur of a stream of piss coming out of the tiny hole in his foreskin, covered by his jeans. I let it continue for about ten seconds—just enough to get his jeans thoroughly wet.

"Stop!" I commanded, and there was a jerk of his body as he tried to regain control. The sound stopped. "Stand up and face me."

There was an enormous wet spot at his crotch, visible even here in the flickering blue dimness of the John. He looked down, embarrassed. I picked up a slip of paper from the pocket of my jacket. I had written my hotel room number on a sheet from the hotel's notepad previously, expecting just this kind of occasion.

"In exactly twenty minutes you will go to this hotel room. In the meantime, I want you to go out and play the fruit machine. If anyone asks you what happened to your pants, tell the truth. This is for the fruit machine." I gave him a handful of ten-piece coins, and left him standing at the trough. I knew he would not unzip and release his stream again; he had surrendered control already, committed to what would come.

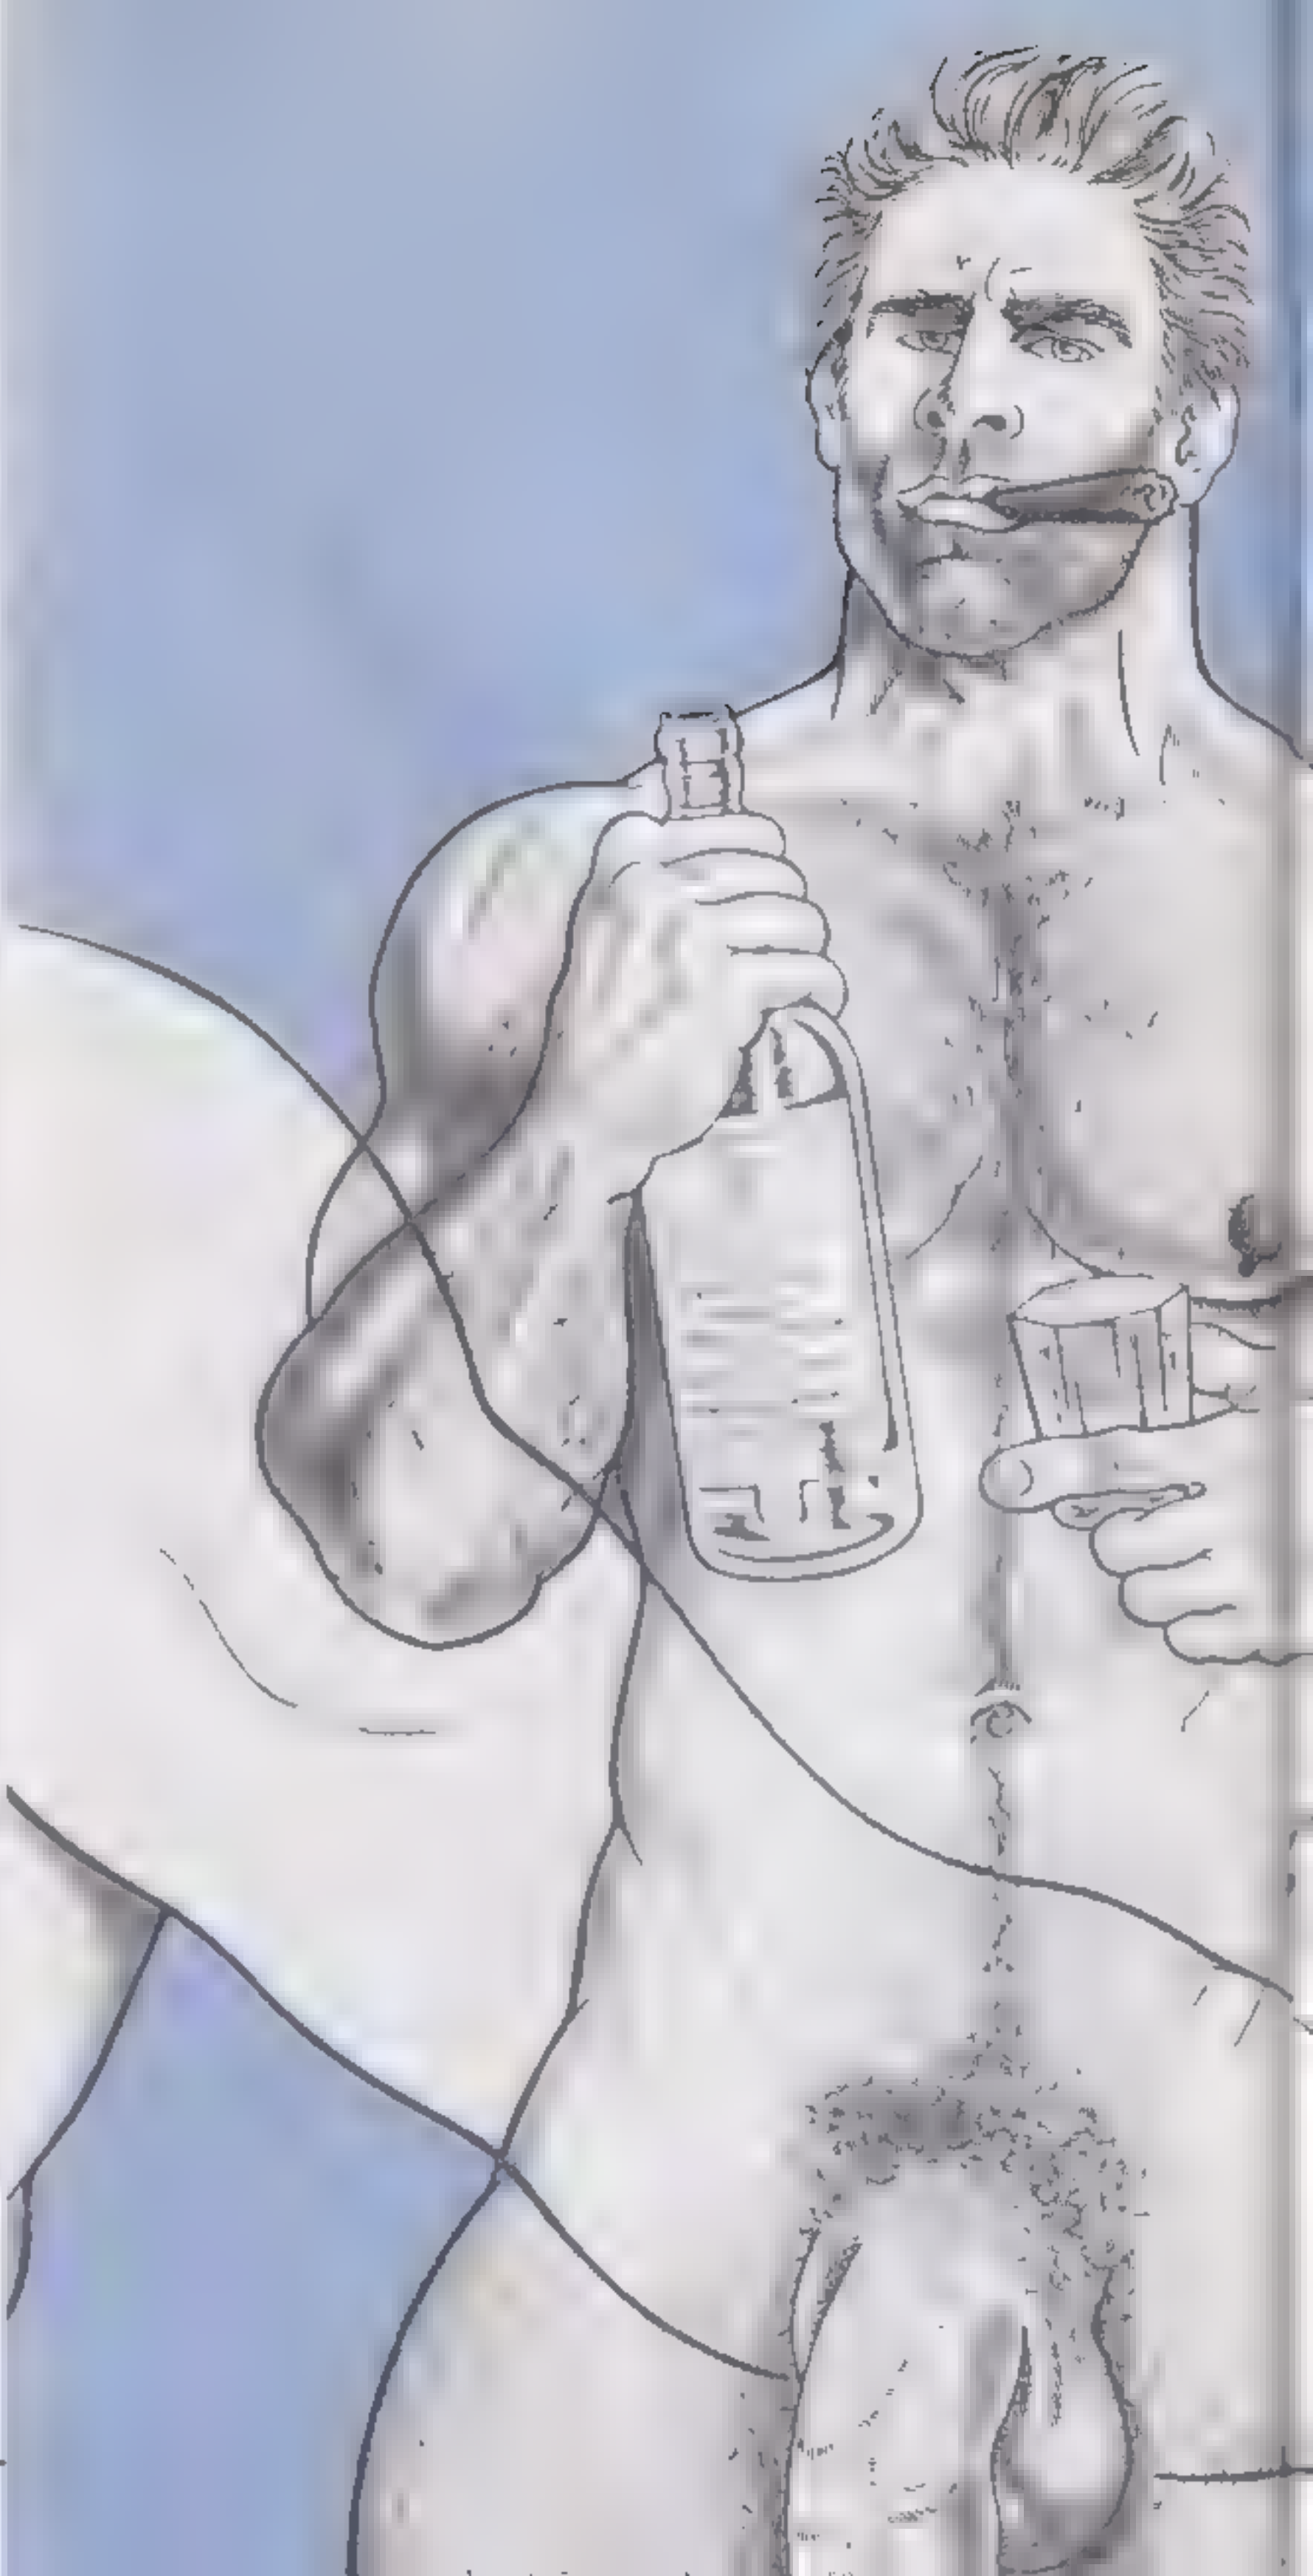

I took up station behind a column, near the fruit machine, and waited. In a moment, he emerged from the WC and walked slowly to the machine. The two previous players were still there, drinking now, not playing. He stuck a ten-pence coin in and pressed the button. The reels spun, stopping without a win.

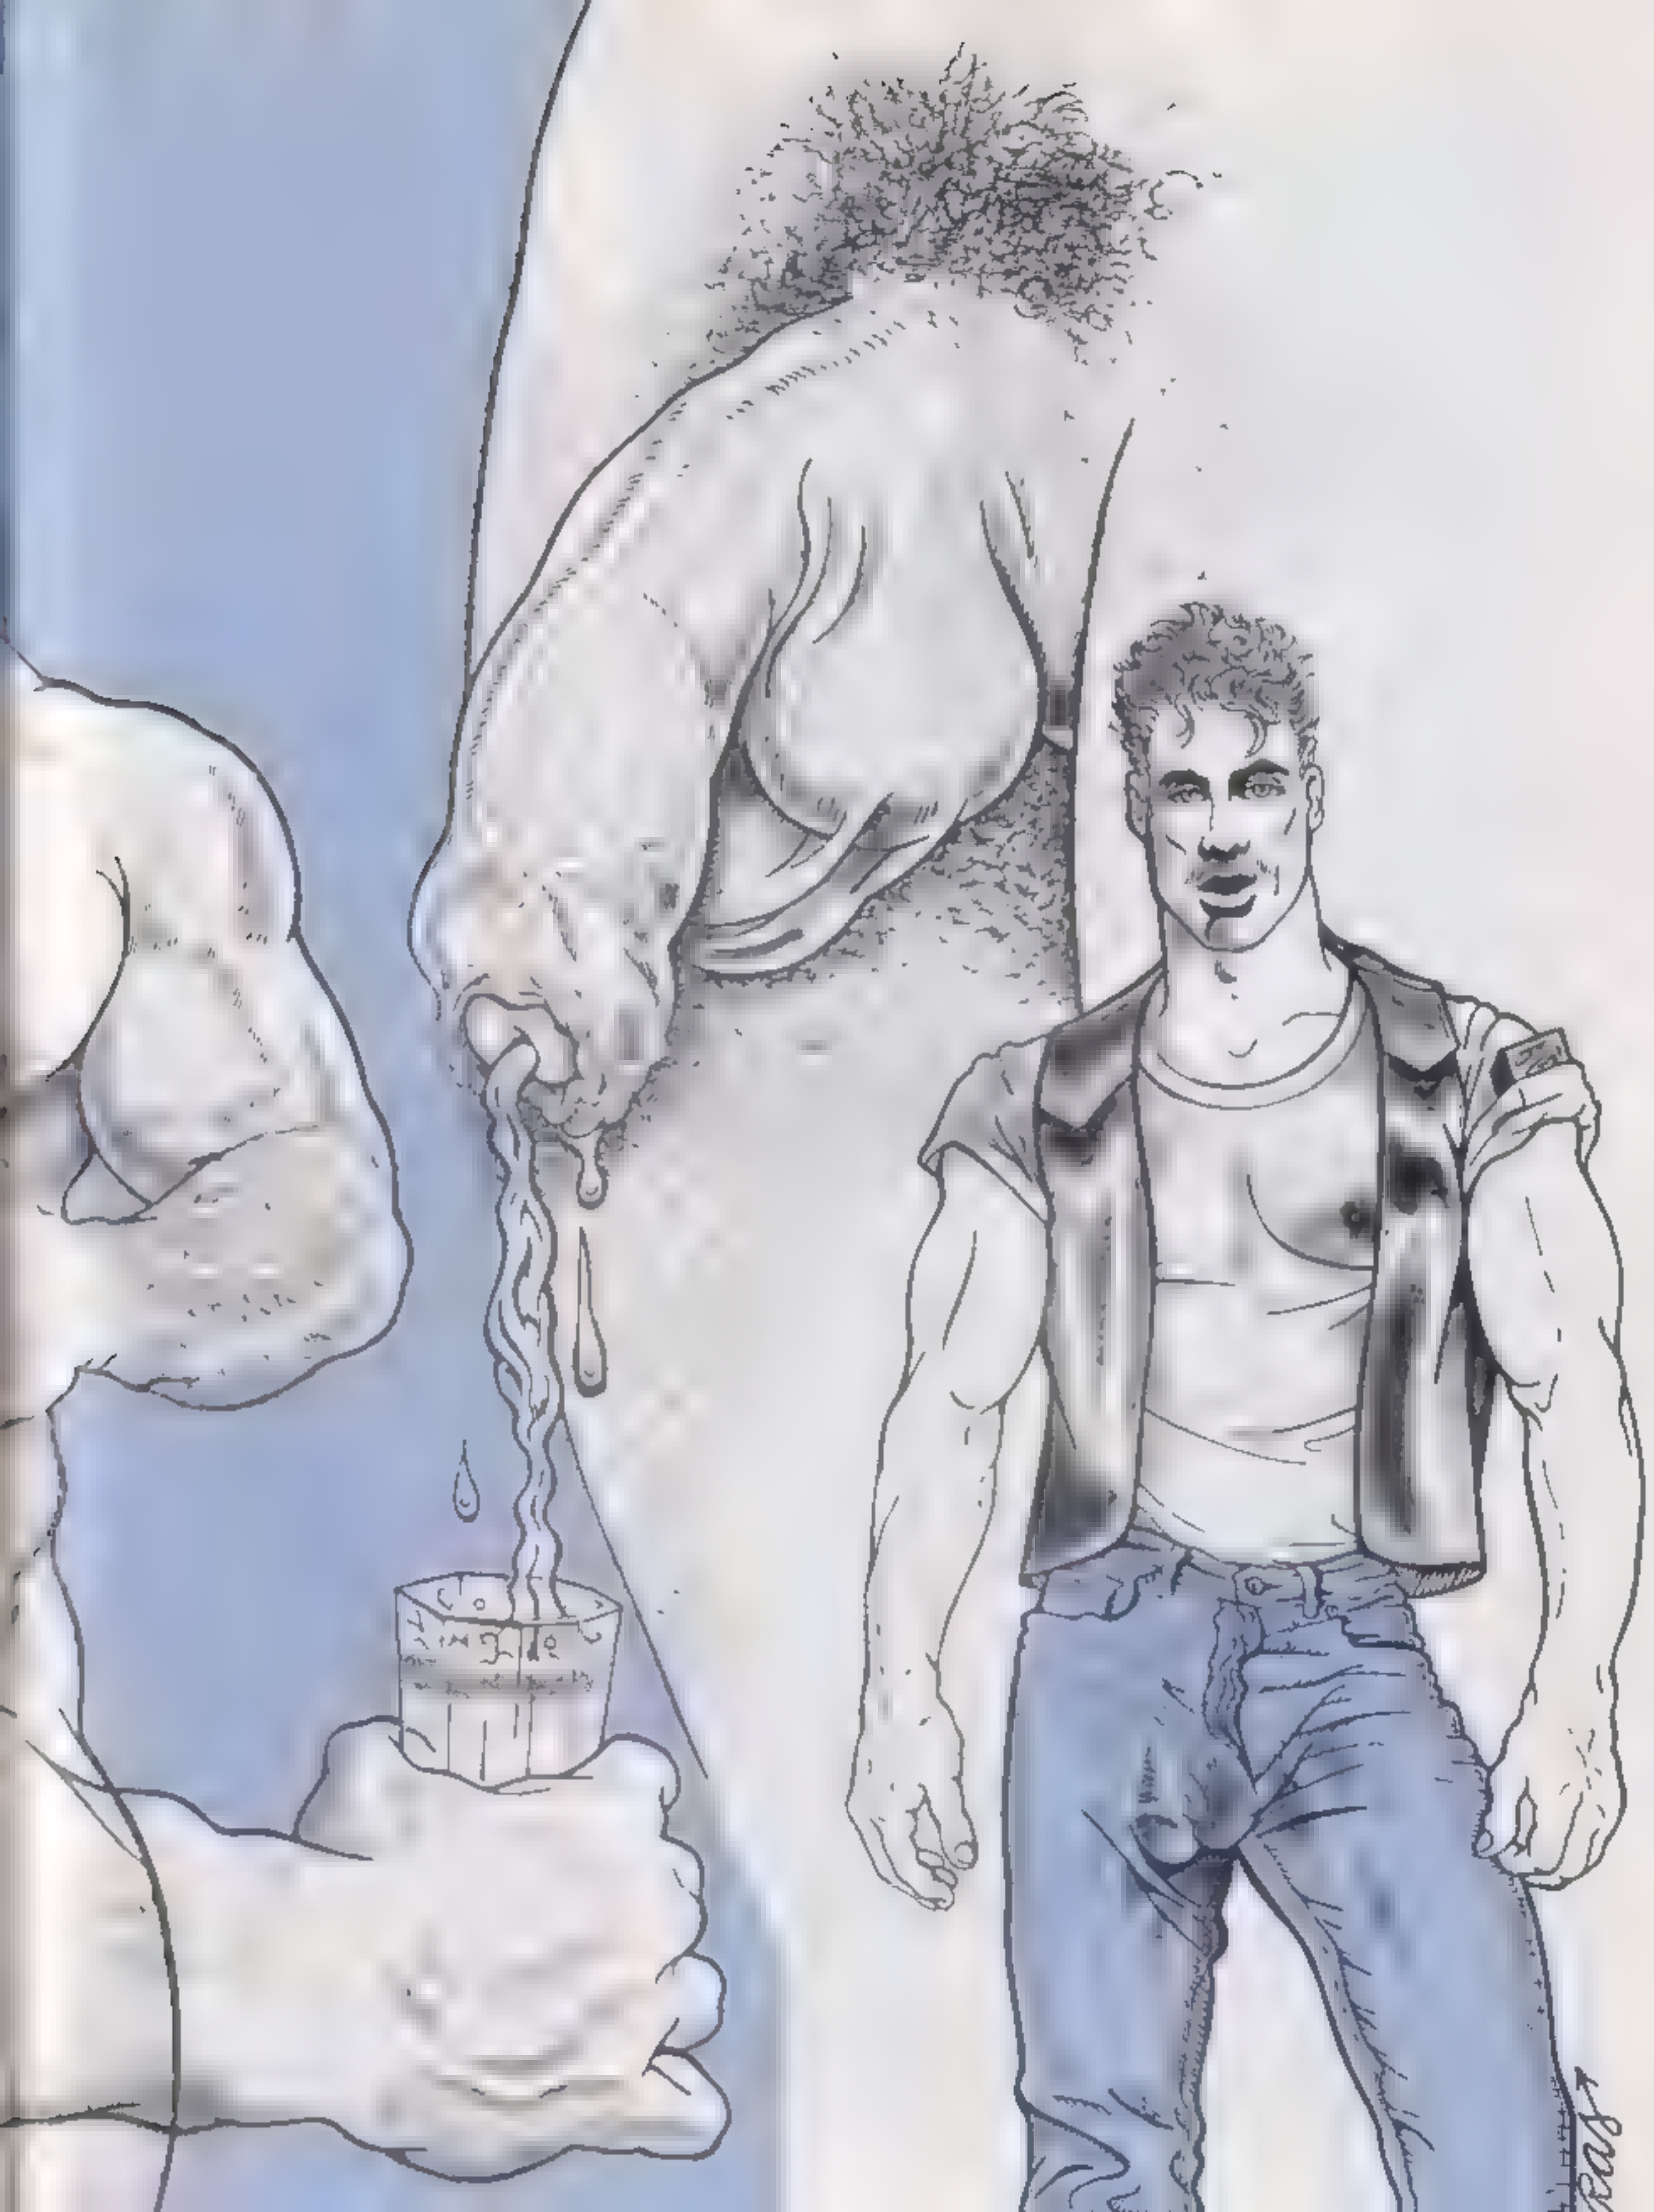

"That machine's fucked up, mate. Steals from honest guys like us! 'Ere now you seem to have spilled your bitter all over the front of your pants, eh? What happened?"

Pisswimp stuck another ten-p coin in and the reels spun. "I pissed me pants," he said softly. The machine lit up brightly, flashing lights illuminating the front of his trousers. Coins rained loudly into the win slot.

"E pissed is bloody pants! And that's a fact—look at the spot!" The spectators came to see the win, and could not help but see the spreading wet spot on the front of Pisswimp's jeans. The flashing lights continued until five pounds had been paid in ten-p coins, and Pisswimp's embarrassment was completed by the snickering around him.

I waited long enough to see him scoop up the coins and put them in his pocket, then left. I crossed the street to the Cumberland—one of the grand old hotels of London—then crossed the acres of lobby and entered the lift. In a moment I was in my own room on the fifth floor. From my open suitcase I took an empty liquor bottle and a shot glass and put them on a tray in the bathroom. After propping the door open an inch, I laid back on the bed to relax.

The tap on the door was tentative. "Come," I said. Pisswimp opened the door slowly, saw me on the bed, entered and closed the door behind him. "Lock it," ordered, and he flipped the deadbolt on and hooked the safety chain. He stood at the door, eyes down, waiting. I imagined how he must have scurried through the cavernous lobby, probably shutting from column to column and from potted palm to potted palm, hoping for enough cover—or even shadow—so that the guests and staff in the hotel would not see the huge wet spot on the front of his jeans.

"Strip," I said. He looked startled, but did as he was told, finally stepping out of his jeans and a very wet pair of shorts. "Come here, to the side of the bed."

He walked over, his cock flopping over good-sized balls, and stood beside me. I looked him directly in the eye. He met my gaze, then cast his eyes down. "Sir," he said, "I still have to piss. More than before. That second beer is getting to me. It's really bad, Sir. I really do have to piss." I could hear the urgency in his voice.

"I have to piss too. I drank as much as you did. I'm keeping mine under control. You can too. Learn to control yourself." I thought he might cry. I reached up to his cock, milked it a bit, then took hold of his balls and stretched them. He winced, but I did not release them. "You like that, don't you," I said, although it was not really a question. "You like someone else controlling you?"

"Yes Sir."

"I'll bet you have some interesting experiences, haven't you? You've been around. London is sometimes a pretty tough place, isn't it?" I had released his balls, and stroked the shaft of his cock very gently—a feather-light touch on the skin, gradually moving the foreskin back and forth over the head. It hardened perceptibly.

"Yes Sir. One time a guy tied me up and used a catheter on me to make me piss. It hurt like hell when he pushed it up my cock."

"I'm an expert with catheters," I said, looking him directly in the eye. He blanched perceptibly, and I paused to let the idea sink in. "A cath shouldn't hurt if it is done properly, with plenty of lubricant and lots of care. Nope—it shouldn't hurt." I paused to let the idea fester in his mind before I continued. "But we won't be doing that." He looked relieved, at least momentarily.

"Thank you, Sir. I'm willing to do anything if you'll just let me go, Sir. I really have to piss."

"I will let you go. I'm not a sonofabitch." I let go of his cock and got up from the bed. "Let's go into the bathroom." I led the way and he followed, positioning himself in front of the toilet.

"Thank you, Sir. I really need this."

"Don't get too excited. I'll hold your cock for you and tell you when to let go." I stood behind his slim body and took his cock in my hand as if it were my own. I stretched it a little and pulled the foreskin back, as if readying it to piss. "You ready to go now?"

"Oh yes, Sir—really ready Now, Sir?"

"Don't be silly. You could never fill up this toilet. Here's something more your size." I handed him the shot glass from the counter. "Fill this up—and don't overflow the edge and don't splash. A slow gentle stream will just do it, and be sure to stop when it is just full. If you stop too soon, I'll make you stop the stream again and then you might overflow it. If you overflow it—if even one drop overflows, you'll drink the whole glassful, and wait another hour before you get another chance to try again." He turned white, and his cock became totally limp.

"I can't stop after I start, I know I can't, Sir, especially just that little bit."

"Of course you can stop. You stopped after wetting your pants, didn't you? I'll hold the glass for you. Just let go a tiny bit so the force isn't too strong, and keep it up until the glass is full. Then stop."

"Oh, shit. Can I hold my cock?"

"No. Just let it hang there. We wouldn't want you squeezing it to cut off the flow, would we? Relax. You can do it. You're a lot better than you think you are."

I held the glass under his cock. He exhaled loudly, and in the mirror I saw him purse his lips. He was at a disadvantage; the long, tight, overhanging foreskin with its tiny, irregular opening would distort the flow and make it hard for him to judge how much to relax his sphincter muscles.

He peered down at his own cock as if he had never seen himself piss before, then relaxed just enough to let a spurt of urine out. If the glass had been at all full, the spurt would have splashed over the side. He clamped down quickly, recognizing that he had used too much force, then let go again in a series of tiny spurts—never letting the stream develop

The glass was virtually full, and the drips from his foreskin were enough to finish the job.

"Great! You did a really good job. I'm impressed. I'm sure that required a lot of effort!" I hugged him, and sensed his pride. I was behind him again, and I let my fingers brush over his nipples two or three times until they became erect. I took hold of the protruding tits and stretched them, gently, lifting. We looked at each other in the mirror. He was biting his lips, nodding "YES!" to me as I lifted and he followed until he was on his toes. His cock stood out in front of him, hard now, bobbing as I allowed him to drop back.

I hugged him for a moment, and felt him relax. "Pour the glass of piss into the bottle," I directed. He did as he was told. I led him back to the bed and stood in front of him. "Undress me."

His fingers nimbly unbuttoned my shirt and got it off. He looked at my hairy chest, and looked into my eyes. I nodded slightly, and he buried his face in the hair, then tilted his head back and began to lick my nipples. I cupped his buns in my hands and squeezed, nearly lifting him off the floor. He sucked my nipples, responding vigorously to my hands on his thin ass. He did not touch the nipples with his teeth—just a prolonged sucking and licking. I let him down.

"You deserved that. Finish undressing me."

He pulled my belt out of the loops and let it drop near the bed. Then he unbuttoned my jeans and let them slip to the floor. He seemed astonished that I was not wearing shorts. I stepped out of the jeans and let him look at my cock—American, cut, and about four inches when soft. He looked into my eyes again, questioningly, and I simply nodded. He was on his knees in an instant, and I spread my legs. He licked my balls, lapping at them as they hung loose, then took the sack in his mouth and fondled the balls with his tongue. My cock stirred, and he released the balls and tried to get the cock in his mouth. I pulled back.

"Sir, please, I want to suck it."

"I know you do. You haven't earned that yet. I have to piss. A lot."

"Let me suck the piss out of you, Sir, please." He seemed to about to cry.

"No, I have another idea. I care about you." I took him by the shoulders and steered him into the bathroom. He sat on the side of the tub, an old Victorian monster with lion's claws for feet.

"Please Sir, I want your piss." He was holding my cock gently, and from his eyes I could see he meant what he said.

"Get into the tub." In an instant he was on his back in the big white thing. I towered over him, my legs spread, ready. "Now reach up and grab it. You can aim it wherever you want it."

His hand came up and held my cock without squeezing, pointing it into the tub. I let go, a forceful stream of hot yellow liquid, and he pointed it at his own cock and balls. It foamed as it hit his pubic hair. Rivulets ran down his balls, warming them. He moved slightly and the stream washed over his own penis, splashing in several directions as it hit his foreskin. He held his own cock in one hand, making my stream match the tip of his cock, savoring the splashing on his chest.

"Ohhhh," he said, feeling the stream on his body. He spread the tip of my cock, enlarging the opening, and the stream became thicker and noisier as it splashed. This was a full bladder he was getting, at least three pints of beer, something I had saved for him most of the afternoon, and he liked it.

I could not go on forever. The stream diminished and stopped. I squeezed out a couple more spurts for the benefit of his crotch. He milked my cock, extracting the last drops. He let go then, running his hands over his wet hairless chest, letting his fingers linger in his soaked pubic hair, cupping his balls and savoring their wetness. He was good.

"You smell like piss. Mine and yours. Let's get you cleaned up," I said. He looked up, questioning. "Relax," I ordered, and he did. I let some warm water run into the tub, washing the piss down the drain, and then put in the plug. I filled the tub with very warm water, watching as it gradually covered his balls, then his chest. His ball sack relaxed and hung loose in the warm water.

I knelt by the side of the tub, picked up a bar of white soap, and lathered him copiously. He enjoyed my washing his balls. I put some lather on my finger and slipped it under his foreskin, cleansing it gently, then stripped the skin back to rinse it well. I had him lift his legs and washed his ass with the soap, slipping my finger just inside the opening. He closed his eyes and inhaled, and his cock became erect again. I moved on to his armpits. "How long has it been since someone gave you a bath?" I asked.

"Not since me mum did it when I was a kid. I didn't know it felt this good to be given a bath."

"We all need to be taken care of from time to time. Still have to piss?"

"Jeez, yes! I think I'm about to explode. Hearing the water running makes me want to piss."

"Don't—until I tell you to. You've been doing fine so far." I grabbed his hand and helped him to his feet, then dried him with one of the big hotel towels. Finally, while he stood in the tub, I held the shot glass under his cock and looked him in the eye. "Don't spill, or you get what's in the glass and what's in the bottle too." He kept his hands behind his back.

He concentrated again, letting out a spurt followed by a weak stream. His control was better this time, and he was able to stop just as the liquid came to the top of the glass. I smiled, and he did too, surprised at his control. I gave him a one-handed hug and poured the glassful into the bottle.

"You've earned the right to a little more relief." I handed him the glass. "Remember that if you lose control you drink whatever is in the glass and everything in the bottle. Probably tastes a damned sight better than the beer!" He was getting good now; he let loose a weak stream, keeping it a gentle dribble which filled the glass slowly.

When he finished, I poured the contents of the glass into the bottle and gave him a hug. He put his arms around me and let his cock rub against my pubic hair. I held him for a moment, and made a decision.

I turned him around, facing the toilet, and took his cock in my hand. I slowly stripped the foreskin back to reveal the head. "Let go now—let it all out."

"Really? I can?"

"Yeah. Just let go. You earned it." He sighed, and let out a strong stream which seemed to go on for many minutes. I could feel his muscles relaxing, his cock jerking slightly as he squeezed out the last drops. With the damp towel, I dabbed the residue from his cockhead and let the foreskin return to its normal position.

There is a joy in releasing tension. But there is a greater delight in being cared for; I was determined to let him experience that—something he had felt for a minute as I bathed him. I led him to the bed and got in, making space for him. I lay on my right side, as he did, cradled in my arms. His back was against my hairy chest, and he squirmed to make better contact with the fur. He lifted his leg and reached behind him, finding my cock and pulling it between his legs until it rested under his balls. He held it tightly between his legs and said nothing. My left hand dangled around his body, gently caressing his nipple.

"Do you like it?"

There was no answer. He slept.

By morning his bladder would be full again. There would be more to do. □

Daddies and Their Boys

What kind of man are you looking for?

If you are hoping for a relationship that lasts more than a few hours, you need to know and be able to talk about your intentions for the relationship with the same confidence you bring to negotiating an SM scene. Relationships can be as different as the people who enter into them, and—

Top or bottom—you have to be face the ground rules gladly, or you're "doomed."

Daddy-boy pairs are workable for most people. In the sidebar to this article (below) you'll see something of the frustration of a person being faced with the "wrong" options. Other men, whether self-defined as boys or otherwise, might make the mistake of getting into a relationship, then trying to change the partnership to suit them. Not a good plan!

Generalities are usually pointless, but there are some generalities about the leathersex scene that are pretty important. How any of them applies to you personally, you have to work out for yourself. Generally, leathersex has taken several strides away from rigid Top-bottom and Master-slave situations both in overnight play and in long term relationships. This is not to say that leathermen don't generally play this way any more, we do, but less exclusively, perhaps less frequently and investing less of our identity in the play than was the case with "Old Leather."

The Master-slave arrangement was the epitome of leathersex at one time, the thing which people spoke of as being "further along," even when they were not people who intended to "go that far." Today, the Daddy-boy relationship is probably the quintessential relationship for "New Leather." (Still, though, the perfect relationship for any two men is whatever they want and are satisfied by!) Personal ads are full of Daddies seeking boys, and boys seeking Daddies. T-shirts printed "Daddy" and "Daddy's Boy" are everywhere. And, among the friends of the Leathersex Fairy, the relationships that seem to last are the ones defined by the participants as Daddy-and-boy, or something of a similar tone.

Some of the attractions of the Daddy-boy relationship are pretty obvious. There is the warmly familiar language, in terms of the words used and the psycho-social postures and non-verbal communications. There is the fact that "straighter" friends who are puzzled or worried by Master-slave situations can actually learn to accept, even embrace a Daddy-boy relationship. And, perhaps most importantly, there is the fact that a Daddy-boy relationship can be built to exact, personal specifications that include an almost endless variety of options.

Men who can be successful Daddies tend not to be people who have a deep need to be perceived as extremists or outsiders in the way that a Rebel Biker or Slavemaster is. But then, what it takes to be extreme and outside now is much more than it once was. To wear leather at all in 1959 was to be an outsider of a relatively extreme sort. This was less the case in '69, hardly relevant in '79, and not true to any stigmatizing extent in '89. So the shifting of social acceptance in the gay community and the world has contributed to the redefinition of acts, attitudes, and clothing in such a way as to support—but by no means create—the new popularity of the Daddy-boy relationship over the traditional leathersex pairings.

A man who is likely to be a successful boy must share his Daddy's willingness to be in a leather relationship that does not seek outwardly to outrage. This is an important consideration, but it may only be understandable for the people it disqualifies. Many of the men who are looking for Daddies today would once have looked for Masters, but they would then have been the ones who looked forward to the day when they would turn the tables on the Master, Top him, and then (very, very likely) leave him. In times past, regardless of the fact that most of these guys never got around to the table-turning stage, those who did usually ended up with another Master before long. They hadn't changed their needs. What they had done was simply wear down their Masters.

If you want a relationship where the Top is dominant not only "by definition," but also because of his strengths and the admiration the bottom has for him; where there is respect flowing both ways within the relationship, where one party admits to learning and both parties are accepting of growth and change; where the bottom is expected to have a will and to know when to express it as well as when to relinquish it, a Daddy-and-boy relationship is probably just what you want. And there is one more thing that is very usual in Daddy-boy relationships and fairly uncommon in all other leathersex situations. Daddies and their boys are almost always allowed by the parameters of their partnership to express genuine love for one another.

Love may not be uncommon in any human relationships, Master-slave and other rigid Top-bottom affairs included, but what other set of labels can two men apply to themselves which give them a more perfect framework for expressing masculine love than Daddy and his boy?

As for the power exchange and sexual interaction between Daddies and boys, it can be quite surprisingly flexible. Age is not a determining factor. Daddy may be younger or older than his boy. The words Daddy and boy are non-limiting labels. Daddy may be the active or passive, dominant or submissive Top or bottom partner. All of that is open to negotiation and discovery, and it will be discussed further at a later time. Meantime, it can't hurt to rethink what you want, with Daddies and boys in mind.

The article here is from my column for leathersex novices which is published in a wide scattering of local newspapers across the US. The point of view of the column is my own, and it is identified with "New Leather," a fact that becomes evident here. If the column is not appearing in your local newspaper, tell the editor you want it, and give her/him my address here at Drummer.

A Boy's Lament

by Tough Customer 144-04

The following letter to Drummer is self-explanatory. The important thing to realize is that this boy's problem is not unusual. Tough Customers and classified advertisers get the wrong responses all the time. Don't make things worse yourself. Answer TC listings and personal ads by reading them carefully and responding to the whole ad, not just a single word or vague idea.

Dear Sirs:

In issue 144 of Drummer, I was very proud to see not one but two of my photos in the Tough Customers section. It was this boy's proudest moment to date! However, there seems to be some misunderstanding with the wording I chose to use for my ad. I was careful to ask for a Daddy and not a Master, but all of my responses (with one exception) have been from Masters looking for slaves. Even though I would love to be Daddy's slave on occasion, it is not my full time, desired position. I am willing to try anything for Daddy, but I can't give respect without receiving it. I have written a piece that may prove enlightening:

Submission is not my goal,
It is my means.
My growth needs guidance
From a firm hand,
Not uprooting.
Though I may sit at his feet,
My heart is by his side.
Though I may serve his purpose,
I do not abandon myself.
And even though he may use
me,
He never demeans or diminishes me.
Daddy loves and respects his Boy.

To ALL Daddies without Boys or Daddies and Boys seeking another Boy, I am here.

Editor's note: While this young TC may have a wrong impression about the possibilities of a Master respecting and even loving his slave, his point is well taken. And, of course, we wish him well in his search for a Daddy. At right, under a picture we ran in Drummer 144, is the boy's original ad.

STORY BY RICK JACKSON

I was horny enough to look and admire, but I wasn't cruising. My mate of two year's standing was on maneuvers on the Big Island for the week, so I was just bored. I came down to Waikiki to get some sun, scope out the Japanese honeymooners, and generally hang out. We're both Marines stationed at Kaneohe on the other side of the island, which means that we don't spend a lot of time in tourist heaven. You may think that since Uncle Sam keeps his Marines in good shape, a Marine couple would have super sex. You're right. Most of our time off base is spent in bed doing things that I'll probably write about some day. For now, let me just say that since Trent had only been gone for two days, my lusts had not driven me amok in search of cock, but since Waikiki has plenty of great bodies strolling around more or less naked, I didn't mind watching, either.

About 4.00 I stopped to pee in the head at the Royal Hawaiian Shopping Centre. The john there is in a weird place; at the end of a long, twisting hallway which is used mainly to connect the retail stores with the stock areas. You follow the "rest room" signs into the corridor, take a couple of forty-five degree bends as the hallway follows the design of the building and walk another hundred feet before you get to the john door. Except for the stockroom further along, there isn't anything else down the hallway. You feel like you're at the end of the earth. I mention all this, because I had needed to drain the weasel for an hour, and I almost dropped a puddle in that endless corridor. Then there was the trek back again. When I finally came back out into the world as we know it, I sat down on a bench in the sunshine to watch the fountain, gawk at the people passing, and generally let life slide past in its easy, careless way. I'd done the beach thing already that day so I was trying to decide whether to take in a movie or head back over the Pali to our condo of sin. As my mind drifted to this and that, I checked out a well-built dude wearing only a set of black boxer swim trunks. He was slowly working on the ice-cream cone he had bought at the Burger Hut at that end of the mall. Seeing people in Waikiki shops in swim gear isn't unusual, but this dude was fine enough to make me notice. He was about my size and age—twenty-four. He was nice. His sun-bleached blond hair, fned complexion, and, most of all, his red, peeling nose proved he was one of those unlucky blonds who burns rather than tans. Surfers are scarce in Waikiki because the waves are better other places so this dude stood out all the more. His fine upper-body development, two-day's growth of beard, and general shifty look started to turn me on. I guess the best way to describe his compact, slightly disreputable sexuality is to say the thought crossed my mind that if Clint Eastwood ever made a spaghetti surf flick, this dude would be perfect casting. The way his long tongue flicked out to lap at the side of his cone didn't do any harm either. I began to fantasize about what Trent and I could do with a sex-monkey like Sam Surfer. He was in no hurry to move on, either, so I had time to drift easily in and out of my fantasy as I sat in the afternoon sun while he lapped at the ice cream as though he were practicing up for cock. Now and again he would look at the door of the Burger Hut behind me and then let his eyes wander again. At first I thought he might be trying to attract my attention and wondered what he would be like. Trent and I were enough. I would turn him down, but it would be a sacrifice. He had the kind of studly sleaze that might be the stuff of great adventure. Then, smiling at my inflated ego, I decided he wasn't after me at all. Since I was a pumped Jock Marine, I automatically figured every dude I saw must live to suck my cock. Perhaps he was waiting for somebody.

In between fantasies about Sam Surfer, I checked out other folks as they shambled past. Japanese honeymooners heading back to their hotel rooms laden down with macadamia nuts and souvenir t-shirts were the biggest draw that time of day. I saw plenty of old couples from the Middle West in ugly but matching Hawaiian print costumes, and from time to time a pair or trio of local teenagers would wander past on their quests for adventure. One family of five passed me arguing in some Slavic language. As I smiled at the way the hen-pecked husband was trying to convince his wife about something or other, I noticed Sam Surfer's dark green eyes were focused on them, too. Something about the eyes made my flesh crawl. The phrase "a lean and hungry look" popped into my mind from Junior English. Sam was a hunter. He could be pushing drugs, but somehow I didn't think that was it. Maybe a purse-snatcher? I looked after the woman, but both the woman and man had those ubiquitous strap-on biker purse contraptions. Whatever his game was, I knew from his eyes that I wouldn't like it. He ceased to be an object of fantasy.

Now uncomfortable in his gaze, I moved around on my bench to look in the opposite direction and, after a few moments, had forgotten about him. The Japanese held possession of the burger place, but their reign came to a sudden end.

A mob of mainland tourists kids swarmed up off the beach and filled Burger Hut with their youthful chaos, sweeping the orderly Japanese into the corners. When they'd ordered, one boy broke off from the group and headed out of the joint and down the corridor to the head. As he passed me, I was suddenly saddened. I realized just then that I'd never have children. I've always liked kids and am good with them. I don't know why I'd never really thought what being gay would mean as far as kids went, but until that moment I had never felt in my gut that I would die childless. The kid was somewhere between fifteen and adulthood. He looked a lot like my son might have looked—the type of kid whose hair you are driven by instinct to muss—the typical American paperboy, the Dennis the Menace down the block. He had reddish-blond hair, a thousand freckles, a pug-nose, and the bounce and vitality that die a slow death in one's teens. My fantasy made him the mirror image of the son I would never have. I'd never teach him how to play catch or drive. I'd never help him with his homework or take him on camping trips to write our names in the snow. We would never conspire to kill Bambi's daddy, go to ball games, or burn steaks outside on Sunday afternoons, and I would never live to see his children running wild on Christmas mornings. Or would I? Why not? If Trent and I are still together in several years, why couldn't we adopt? Or for that matter, we could hire somebody and take turns trying to knock her up. Then one of us would be the biological father. We're enough alike that if the woman had an intermediate hair color, we need never know which of us scored. We could parent a whole lot better than many breeding pairs I've seen. My thoughts wandered randomly down that path as I noticed he had turned the first bend and was gone down the hallway and out of sight, out of my life. I don't think I had ever felt as alone as I did at that moment.

I looked over at his friends tearing the burger joint apart and decided to talk to Trent to see what he thought about our having a kid if and when we left the Corps. I suppose the laws of most states are down on gay couples adopting, but maybe we could find a loophole somewhere. Certainly if we knocked somebody up with that in mind, we shouldn't have any trouble with custody. Out of the corner of my eye, I saw black trunks disappear down the hallway and wondered why they didn't have the john more centrally located. More people would use it then but I suppose that would cost them more in paper towels and butt-wipe. How much does a place like this probably spend on butt-wipe in a year? At a quarter a roll, it must mount up. Yeah, I thought to myself, as the gang of kids got their burgers. Trent might just go for adopting. I might as well ask.

Nothing ventured, nothing . . .

Then I remembered those eyes. How long had the kid been gone by now? A minute? Three or four? I'd been day-dreaming in the late afternoon sun and had lost track of time. His friends already had their food, but there wasn't any reason to worry. The guy had just needed to take a dump. Kids shit, too, after all. It took a minute or so just to get to the head. I glanced around where Sam had been sitting. In an ashtray by his bench, part of his ice cream was forming a pool of chocolate under the uneaten cone. I stifled the urge to puke. I must be wrong. It was 4:30 in the afternoon, for chrissake. Then I remembered the Slavic family. Their eldest had been about fourteen or fifteen.

I knew I was one sick, suspicious son-of-a-bitch, but there was no way I could just sit there. I'd hike back down to the fucking john, check to make sure the kid was OK, and then head home. Mourning my unborn, unconceived son put me in no mood to sit through a movie.

The bare cement walls and tiled floor seemed to stretch out forever. I felt like a total ass, but broke into a trot anyway. I knew I was being stupid, but sometimes you just can't help yourself. When I got to the john door, though, I heard a squeak. As I opened the door, the image of what I saw seared its way into my brain. This was nearly a year ago, but Trent tells me I still scream in my sleep when I dream about it.

They were both in front of the middle urinal. Sam had his right hand on the kid's swim trunks, trying to get them down off the kid's legs as he tried to escape from the dude's clutches. Sam's black trunks lay tossed in the corner. I couldn't see much of the boy, but I could hear him begging Sam to leave him alone. The man was bare-assed and hard, and I was about to puke again.

The boy's pleading had drowned out the sound of the door, so Sam was surprised when he felt my arm around his neck. For good measure, I reached down past his ass and grabbed his hard onto his ballbag. Sam dropped the kid, who landed with a hard splat on the cold blue tile. As I pulled Sam away and shoved him into the tiled wall, the kid collapsed into a heap of shuddering scrawny limbs and sobs. That moment was the closest I've ever come to killing another — no, I started to say "killing another human being," but the term hardly applies. He started to say something, but I tightened my grips, paying special attention to his nuts, and banged his head into the wall as hard as I could, given my uncertain leverage.

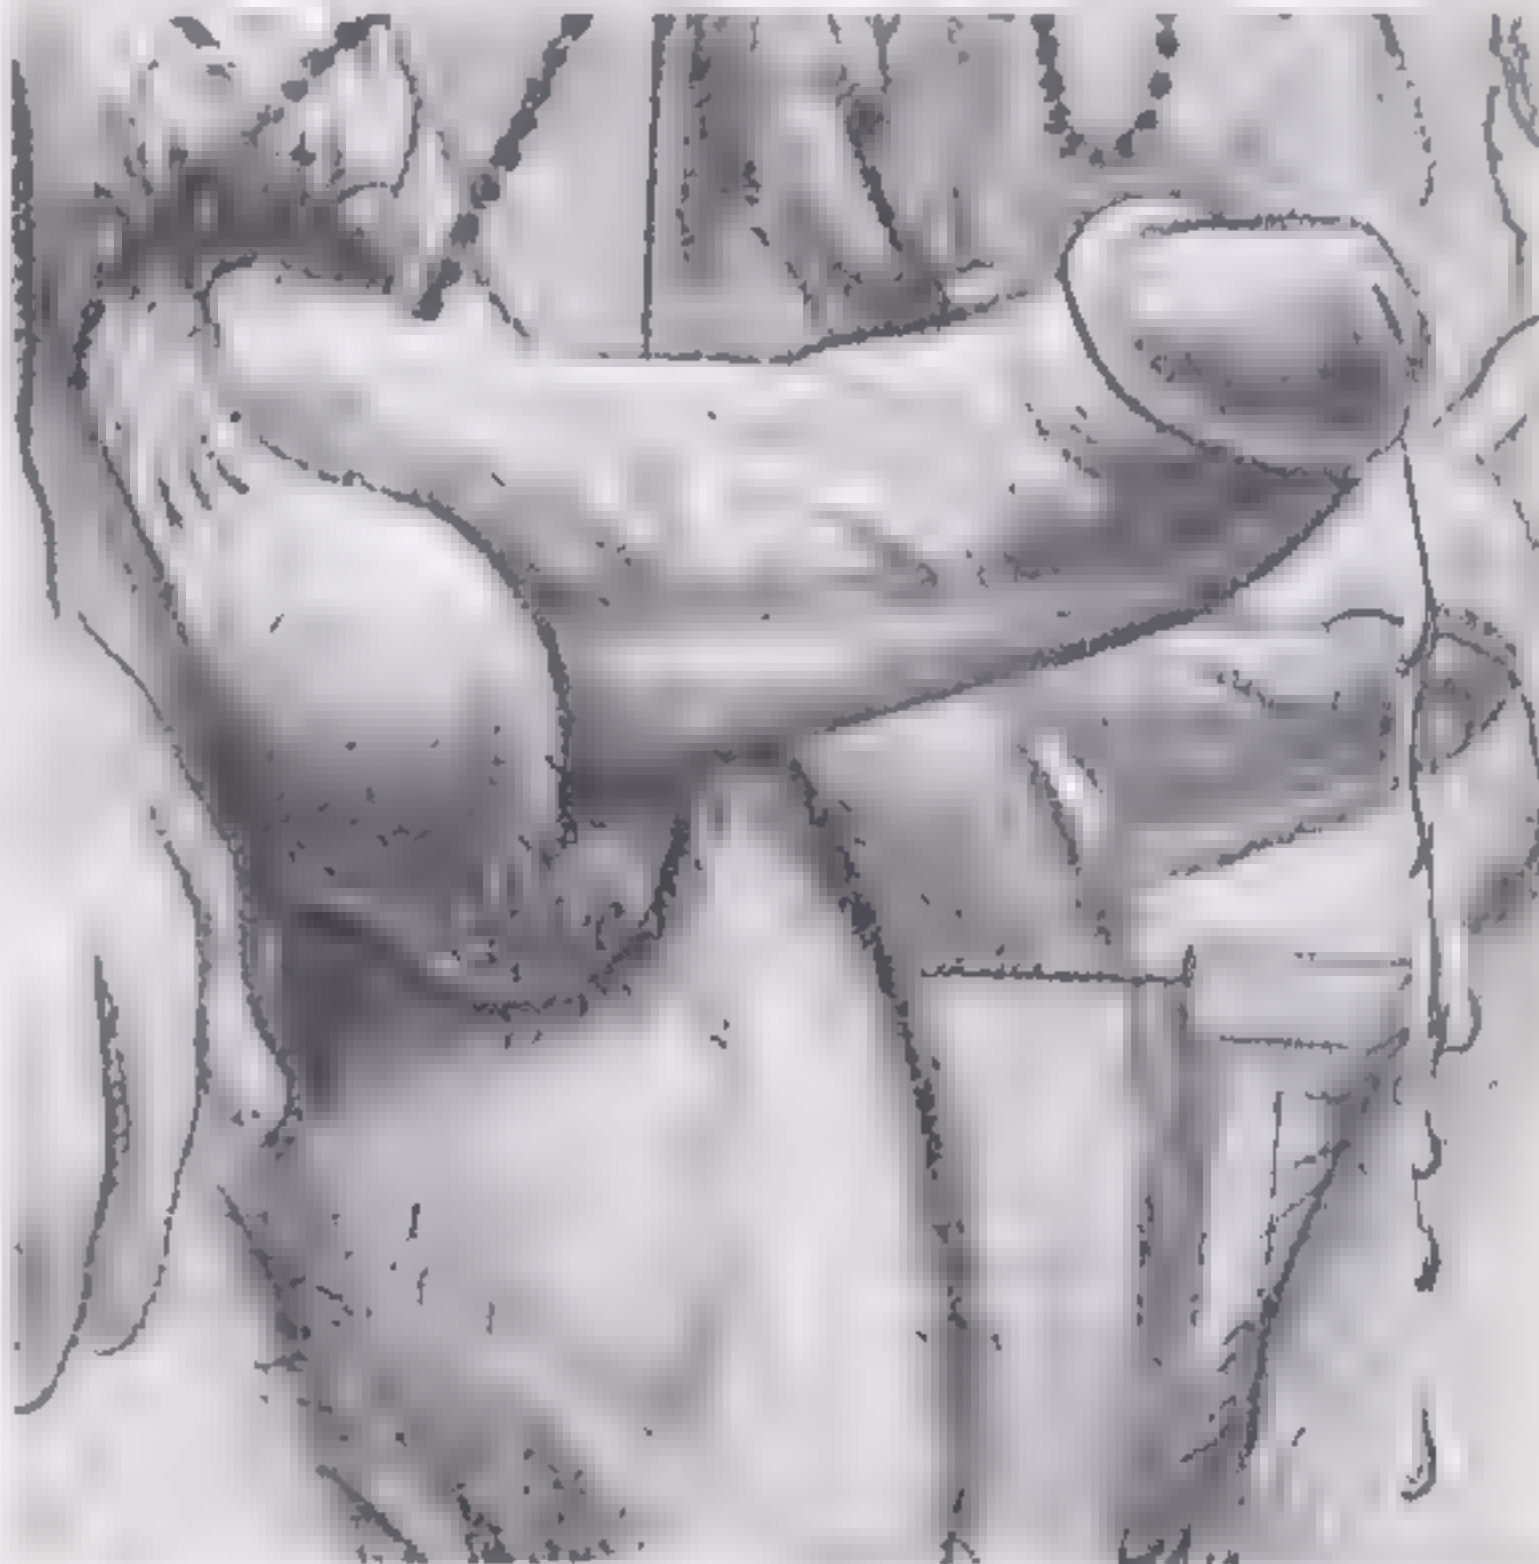

I waited for a minute or two, hoping the boy's panic would fade. The sobs died away, but he didn't move. I told him it was over, barking louder than I'd intended, but the cement walls of the room echoed like a tomb. I asked if he was all right and he nodded his head slightly and sniffled. I asked if his mother or father were around, and he shook his head. Finally, I asked if he were strong enough to leave on his own. I had to hold onto Sam. Could he go back to the Burger Hut and send one of his buddies for a cop? They could phone for one, or just go out onto the street and flag one down. He needed to move, though, because my arm was already starting to twitch. The kid started sobbing again and begged me not to tell the police.

The boy was consumed by terror. His parents would be angry. What would his friends say? I tried to tell him that his parents wouldn't be angry at him, that he had done nothing wrong, but I knew I was wasting my breath. He was obviously too upset to listen. Shit, it would be beyond reason. I had two choices: I could carry Sam out into the mall until I could get a cop to take the kid's story, in which case the kid would have to relive the episode again and again but could be checked over at a hospital and would probably get counseling later on to make things easier, or I could send the kid on his way and hope that the he could put the terror behind him on his own. To this day I don't know whether I made the right choice in the few seconds I had to decide. I did what I hoped somebody would do for my kid. I asked if Sam had "gotten inside" him; the kid shook his head. I'm no lawyer, but I suspected that because I'd

There's enough for both of — I shut him up by clenching my fist with his nuts inside. I looked over to his trunks with the idea of using them as a gag and noticed they had one of those little pockets inside. I told the kid to look inside the pocket. He didn't want to get near the trunks but, after a few moments, bucked up and pulled a little wallet from the pocket. The boy had guts; maybe he would be OK, after all. Inside the wallet, we found Sam's driver's license, a VISA card, and some cash.

I asked the kid if he was sure he was all right. He said he was. I made a deal with him. I wouldn't insist on the police arrived in time. Sam could probably hire himself a lawyer slick enough to keep him out of jail. I asked the kid if he was sure that he didn't want the cops, and he nodded his head fervently. By this time he did seem all right, but I knew he wouldn't be later. I told him to splash some water onto his face and wring out his trunks, which had finally fallen into the pisser. In a few minutes he looked more or less normal except for the red in his eyes and a big bruise that was forming where he'd landed.

Sam made another noise. I made the mistake of letting up a tad on his throat and he said, "Look, stud, I saw you.

now if he would promise to tell his father what had happened. He said he was with his mother, his father wouldn't be flying in from Maui until that night. That was fine, I said. Would he promise to get his father alone tonight and tell him what had happened. He thought for a minute or two shaking his head, afraid of what would happen and, finally, looked at Sam dangling in my arm and then at me. I saw a little of the youth flow back into his eyes, but there was strength there now, too. He began to move from fear and shame to anger. The kid was a tough little bastard. He said he would tell his father the whole story. I told him to take the driver's license and give it to his father. Sam didn't like this development at all. He bucked and tried to kick his way free, but when I tightened my grips, he didn't know whether to gurgle or scream so he shut up.

By this time, the kid had rinsed out his trunks and was putting them on. For some reason, I flashed back to the thrill and satisfaction I had felt after I had lost my cherry. I remember pulling up my jeans after my first fuck and feeling grown up at last. Today was this kid's introduction to sex — the day the kid who wasn't my son would remember for the rest of his life. He wouldn't remember a fumble with panties in the bushes or a circle jerk in a teen clubhouse. He would remember only terror and disgust and guilt. I tightened my ball hand on general principles until the slime started to scream. I had the dad tell me once more that he was OK and that he would give his father the license. Then I told him to get out, I didn't want him to be there when I took care of Sam. On his way to the door, I told him he was a brave kid. When he grew up, he should join the Marines because we needed tough men like him. He asked, "You're a Marine?" When I said yes, nodding down with my chin, my green t-shirt with USMC partly visible before Sam blocked the view of my chest, his eyes widened for a second in the look of admiration I'd never get from Rick Junior, smiled, and moved toward the door. He opened it, turned around for a second to say, "Thanks, mister. My name is Joey," and he was gone.

I was alone with Sam. The first thing I did was to loosen his balls so I could flick the lock on the door. We weren't likely to be disturbed back here, but I was taking no chances. With my right arm — now starting to hurt as I am unaccustomed to strangling strangers — I pulled Sam even closer to me and leaned forward to whisper into his right ear, "You like chicken? Did you ever make it with a man, or do you only get off inside smooth, hairless butts like Joey's?"

He sighed, thinking that I hadn't cared about the kid at all, that I just wanted to nail him myself. "Sure, I like men too. I really wasn't going to hurt the . . ." That was as far as he got. I needed him off guard so I could let loose of his neck before my arm fell off. I started in with three rabbit punches to his left kidney and, at the same time, butted his head into the wall. He collapsed into a heap on the floor, not unlike little Joey's pile of shuddering flesh. The comparison was obscene enough to piss me off anew. To keep him quiet while I reconnoitered, I rolled him out of his pseudo-fetal position and forced him to lie belly-down on the cold tile floor. He was only half-conscious, but I told him that if he moved an eyelash, I would kill him. To show him I was serious, I planted my sneaker-shod foot hard into his crotch. He puked and heaved in pain, but lay quiet, shivering in the puddle he had made. I suspect now that if he had given me any trouble, I probably would have killed him. I had heard of the beast which lurks just below our civilized veneer, but I had never appreciated what that meant until I felt my blood pumping hard through my veins and roaring in my temples. Why not off the bastard? There was no way they could identify me, and after the Joey's dad got hold of the police, they probably wouldn't bother to look very hard. I could easily twist the fucker's neck, leave him face down in the trash, and walk away having done the world a service. If I hadn't been sure that Joey would deliver the license to old dad, and that dad would turn it over to the police, I think I might have croaked the fucker to protect other kids. At least if the police knew about Joey, they could keep an eye on Sam.

No, I was too civilized to scrag him, but I was animal enough to make him sorry. I wanted to hurt him — bad. I considered cutting his balls or dick off. To be technical, I thought about biting his cock off, I hadn't a knife. Losing his cock would not only hurt him plenty and would continue to do so until his last hour, but it would ensure he would never use it to fuck any other little boy. How many others had there been before Joey? How many times had the Marines not been on the beach? Aside from making me feel good, though, there wasn't much point. The sexual demons which drive men are armoured against by reason. If they weren't, VD wouldn't stand a chance. If he couldn't use his dick, he would use his fingers or dildos or God knows what. My task should be to make him sorry, all right, but to do it in a fashion that would show him raping children wasn't a turn-on. I couldn't make him want to nurture children, but I could sure as shit make him understand rape. I looked around the head for something to use. There wasn't much.

The first order of business was to make sure he wouldn't feel frisky. I emptied the trash can and used the plastic bag inside to tie his wrists together behind his back. I had to use his expensive-looking Seiko to keep the knot from slipping, but he wouldn't need to know the time. Once he was trussed, I let him rest while I explored. Aside from the bag, I only found three other remotely useful items: a plastic bottle filled with detergent, a toilet brush, and a plunger. Before I could get creative, though, I knew I had to get to the meat of my presentation. I was going to fuck the shit out of the asshole, just to show him what it felt like. The problem was that I wasn't feeling romantic. I was angry and disgusted, but I was not turned on. He obviously fed off the terror of his victims; I've always gotten off by giving pleasure. The idea of finding satisfaction in brutalizing someone had never occurred to me before today. If I was going to rape him, I needed to change that. I needed to be as savage and hurtful and selfish as he could be.

He was starting to come out of his daze. I emptied the detergent into a sink and filled the bottle with cold water which I squirted into his face. Although I just wanted to wake him, the traces of soap left in the bottle found their way into his eyes. He woke up hurting. I silently blessed the gods of Serendip. I flipped him over onto his back, careful that he would find his bound wrists an uncomfortable cushion, and dragged him out of the puddled muck on the floor. Another jet of water washed away most of the puke staining his face and left him handsome again. Maybe this would be easier than I thought. Even after all that had happened, I still found him physically appealing.

He squirmed around trying to get comfortable and started to bitch, asking what I was going to do to him. I told him more or less the truth: that I was playing it by ear. The one thing he could take to the bank was that if he pissed me off, he'd be sorry. I tossed off my t-shirt and stepped out of my 501's, freeing my tools for the work to come.

I started making my point, asking him if he was turned on. His limp dick shouted that he wasn't. He hurt; he was cold, he was uncomfortable; he was afraid. "Astud like you," I said in a low, kind tone, "must be into S&M. Otherwise you wouldn't get off hurting kids. I'm not into chicken, but I like giving a hunky dude a thrill." I lied, reverting to the classics for the second time that afternoon to prove myself a true warrior scholar by paraphrasing Dromio's pun: "You're bound to like me more than any boy. You do like being fucked, I hope?"

"No way. I'm a top."

"You were, stud. You were. Now you're a bottom. You're not even that. You're a hole I'm going to fuck until my dick blisters, then I may just fist you to death to raise a smile." He started to whine, so I gave him a quick kick in the kidneys as I straddled him. I shoved my butt into his face and reached out to grab his ballbag. He got the idea and started rimming me like a pro. I rocked my crack to and fro, using his nose as a stylus to guide my groove as he played sweet music. Besides making plain that he was just an object I was going to use for my pleasure, the rim-job had the added advantage of getting me hard. Much as I hated to admit it, the dude knew his stuff. That a hunk with his technique went after chicken blew me away; but I suppose that was the point. Sexual cravings are like religions — the other guy's always seems silly at best and harmful at worst. I just wanted to get his attention enough so he would realize raping hairless children was not nice. As he tongued on, I almost forgot why I was there. He was good. He even managed to suck on the stiff, red tussock at my asshole. He would slow now and again and I'd pull up on his ballbag to motivate him again. Soon I was putting my weight on his face, grinding my ass into his nose, mouth, and chin. When I twisted his bails and told him to, he pierced my hole and used the flicking tip of his mouth-organ to make me even harder. The blond beard stubble excited me almost as much as his tongue. Then at one point his tongue found a surprise as fate took another hand. I discovered the need to fart and started saving up to make it a good one. When his tongue reached new territory on one grind of my ass, I left fly, filling the room with a green cloud which bubbled past his tongue in an the grossest possible imitation of a kiss. It was ripe enough to make me shake my head in admiration. I could only wonder how he must feel.

When I was throbbing, I stood up and told him the party was on. I rolled him over with my foot, lifted him to his feet by his bound wrists, and aimed his body at the same pisser Joey had tried to use. They are the kind with the usual upright part along the wall and then a water-filled trough which juts out about eighteen inches into the room. I bent him double and aimed his head at the upright part. As his head hit the porcelain, I put the eye of what Trent calls The Monster against his hole. My body kept him from backing up and the walls of the pisser kept him from moving from side to side. I grabbed his bound arms, leaned forward to whisper into his ear, "This is what you were going to give the kid. Of course, his hole is a lot smaller than yours, so you won't have as much trouble as he would have. How do you like this?" I pushed my thick, throbbing, unlubricated eight inches up into his guts in one swift, relentless, terrible stroke. He felt his body seemingly break in half and shrieked and moaned and begged me to let it rest a minute, but I thrust on, being as brutal as I could. I kept one hand on the bag binding his wrists, using it as a fuckrein. I kept the other near my cock to put it back into his hole. Almost every stroke, I'd intentionally pull my rod all the way out so his hole would have to accommodate my over-sized passion plum on both the in- and the out-strokes. Having the cock pop out each time also meant that the blood and ass juices which would normally help lube my cock had a chance to dry a little on each stroke. Once my cock was buried to the hilt, I ground my rough, red pubic forest into the shreds of his asshole. The rhythm of thrust, grind, pull, pop, re-fuck and thrust slowly grew as I took care to change my slant from time to time so no one part of his ass could grow numb. When I found his prostate, I tended to concentrate on crashing into it at full force.

He was one hurt puppy from the beginning. I don't like being fucked myself so I knew the pain he was in. As the first shock of ripping muscle became a slowly spreading friction burn inside his guts, he bitched and begged even louder, promising he'd do anything I wanted if only I'd let his ass alone. I leaned forward and whispered, "I'd kind of like to try fucking bald dick myself. Does chicken feel different? Let's see." I used the hand I'd been reserving for my cock to reach around to his bush and pull loose several hairs at a time. I started with too many. His blond pubes were too firmly anchored to come away in handfuls, but when I wrapped ten or twenty hairs around a finger and pulled, they popped up like little scallions, the white bulbs of their roots shining. I couldn't snatch him bald because I was too busy fucking and holding, but by the time I'd reached all I could, the fur floating in the pisser was considerable. I wondered in passing whether they would grow back. I hoped not. Inspiration was kind to me again later when, to balance myself as my hips picked up their rhythm, I put my hand up to the pipes above the pisser. I found my hand wrestling on the flush lever and, since those hairs were floating around down below, I flushed the fuckers. Besides, his head was crashing against the pisser on each stroke, and I thought he might need a shampoo. When I saw that he accepted the repeated dousing without much added hysteria, I reached in and grabbed his hair, pulling his head back so that his face rested against the smooth white wall. Soon, though, the thuds of his face against the white, turned the trough to red. The fierce fuckstrokes of my hips had smashed his face into the pisser so hard his nose began gushing blood down into the water. I let his hair go and allowed him to go back to his first position just about the time the virginal tightness of his hole took its toll. I felt my balls rise to deliver their payload. The tensions of the last hour exploded through my cock and deep into his guts as I shot out the biggest blast of cock-snot I'd felt since the first time I'd had Trent. I fucked and reamed and twisted and thrust and ground and pounded until I thought I would pass out.

Amazingly, when I came back to full consciousness, I was still hard. My head is normally super-sensitive after I've shot off but the warmth of his hole and the lubrication my juice had provided kept me fit to travel. I started up again from scratch. I think it was only when he felt me beg n again after I'd already cum that the real danger he was in dawned on him. I'd hurt him before, but in some weird way the pain and humiliation were a turn on. He could look back on them as fuel for jerk-off fantasies for years to come. Being drilled for load after load, though, was another matter. He wasn't having fun anymore and tried hard to get away. I moved back to his balls, but even that didn't stop him entirely. He ended up doing little except smacking his head against the side of the pisser, I kept at his ass and returned to his bush with minor variations on the theme for another ten minutes or so. Then I decided it was time for a change.

The sinks were sunk into a counter to the side of the pissers. To accommodate wheelchair-bound men, the counter was about thigh level. I pulled back on the reins and kept my dick firmly planted up his butt while I prodded him over to the counter. As he lay his torso onto the countertop, he could see himself in the mirror, with me in total control up his ass. I pulled back on his hair again to make him look at his bloodstained face and to watch every shockwave that rippled through his body as I pounded my dry, stiff log up into him. Seeing him reflected help ass below me made me even harder. I began to wonder whether I wasn't as savage as he. My only consolation was the rationalization that I was raping him to teach him a lesson, not just to get myself off. In retrospect, I was probably fooling myself. By this point I was pounding on and on because I enjoyed the feeling of absolute power. My musings were interrupted when the sight of him powerless beneath the ravages of my cock set me off again. If possible, I enjoyed myself even more this time because as I got ready to shoot, I could watch the whole process in the mirror.

When I'd pumped the bilges dry again, I opened my eyes to find him praying I was finally finished. Prayers aren't always answered, though, I wasn't. I started pumping away again and saw hope die in his eyes. No longer the hunted, now the prey, he was not having a good time. He saw his humiliation and pain stretching endlessly through the night. Tears ran down his face as he begged me for mercy. I kept pounding and said only "Like you gave young Joey?"

After he collapsed into sobs, I decided that I was wasting my time. He was fucked so loose that not even the monster's eye was keen enough to find much traction. With one hand on his wrists to keep him flat on the counter, I pulled my cock back into the light. As hope revived, his head sprang up to see what I was doing. Once again, he was disappointed because I started in with my hand. First I just slapped his ass as hard as I could until red paw-prints shone on his blond, freckled cheeks. I needed relief from the stinging in my hand so I stuck it up his ass. I went in first with three fingers and before you can say "hand job," had my wrist stuck in his hole. I could feel the combination of blood and prime USMC-spunk lying dormant in the floor of his fuck tunnel. Always one to clean up my messes, I scraped my fingers along inside him, gathering my seed. I folded the fingers tightly to pull them out again, careful not to let them drop their load. I nestled my cock in his crack as I reached the hand around to his mouth. He wasn't interested in a protein snack so I heaped his mouth open by holding his nose. Seconds later, he was licking everything I could deliver. I made several trips up his hole, fisting bigger each time until you could have housed a family of munchkins up his ass.

My handprints had faded by the time his lunch was finished, so I looked around for something to spank him with. The toilet brush was ideal. Its thick, stiff bristles bore into his tender blond cheeks as though I'd found a porcupine. In seconds, he was howling as the bristles awoke every nerve in his butt. His brain was flooded with agony unlike anything he had felt since I first crashed through the gates of his virgin ass. Then the detergent bottle caught my eye and my fancy. Since he was next to the sink anyway, I made him fill the bottle and hand it to me. After I stuck its mouth into him, I would squeeze what water I could up his ass and then make him refill the bottle again. We kept at it for a lot longer than I expected. Anyone with the wits of a turnip would shit out the water as fast as I was pumping it in. I think he probably just didn't want to have the shitty water run down his legs, but he must have known it would eventually — and the more water he had up his ass, the more dramatic the flood would be. When it happened at last I was impressed. Tiny globs of shit, water flecks of blood and floating islands of cum blasted out his ass and halfway across the room. The back of his legs looked as though he had just strolled through the Okefenokee.

I should have gone on longer and been a lot more creative, but I was sick of torturing the asshole; I was sick of looking at him. There was no point in my stretching the thing out any longer. If I'd made my point, fine; if I hadn't, another six feet of cock wouldn't have done it any better. It was time for me to go, but before I left, I needed to come up with something special for a finale. I also needed to slow him down a tad. I didn't want him running out into the shopping center and attracting attention until I was gone. What would be an apt finale for raping a rapist?

I pulled him off the counter and dropped him onto the floor, belly down in the pool of puke and shit. From there I could reach the stuff strewn around the floor. The VISA card and cash Joey had dropped out of his wallet were closest at hand. I saw four twenties, a couple of tens, and several fives. I wadded them into little balls and down the hole they went. I almost put the VISA down, too, but figured it would be a breach delivery and he would have to go to a hospital to have it removed. I didn't want to make him seem the victim. Instead, I had another inspiration. His gold Seiko was next down the hole. It would be easy enough to pull out, but would take some cleaning. More importantly every time he checked the time from that day on, he would be reminded of his pain and humiliation. I'm not normally the creative type, but if I do say so myself, that day I was on a roll. I needed wadding to hold everything in place the swim trunks. It took me forever to get them down the hole because they were cotton and soaked up everything in sight. There was just no way they were going to slip in and I expected that he would have to do some tugging to get them out again. The beauty of using the trunks was that until he got the trunks out and cleaned them up, he couldn't leave the head. In the end I had to prod them down the hole with the end of the plunger. Once it was in, I used it to reach beyond where my cock had gone before. I'm good, but I'm not two feet long, not quite anyway. I didn't get the whole two feet down the shaft but I'll bet he thought I had. I'd never played baseball with anyone's prostate before. By the time I was finished with his stuck-up ass, I was certain he would remember the afternoon for a long time. More important, even though he had begun by treating the rape as a lark, I was sure he had earned what it felt like to be a victim. I can't claim to have brought him enlightenment but at least he would remember what it felt like to be on the other end of the cock. I used his hair as a towel to rub the shit off my cock, stepped back into my 501's, pulled on my t-shirt, and was history. As I stooped to free his wrists, I put my shoe atop his nuts and said, "If I ever so much as think you're cruising chicken again, I'm going to cut your dick off and shove it up your ass. If you don't believe me, just give me a try."

As I walked back down the corridor it was 6:53. I was shocked to see young Joey sitting alone in the Burger Hut, waiting for me. I grabbed him by the arm and more or less carried him down the stairs and out onto the sidewalk: "Are you crazy? He's still in there. You need to get back to your hotel room."

"I just wanted to make sure you were OK. You were in there a long time. I was worried."

I did what I'd craved all afternoon; I mussed his hair and gave him a paternal pat on the head. "No problem, kid. He was a piece of cake. I don't think he'll bother anybody again soon." At least not until he gets his wardrobe out of his ass, I thought to myself. "Don't forget your promise to tell your father. If the police don't know about him, he may go after other kids. You wouldn't want that, would you?"

He promised again, this time with seriousness positively beaming out of his eyes, that he would. I walked him the three blocks to his hotel just to make sure he didn't have any more adventures that day. When we got there, I could see he wanted to say something else, but couldn't find the words. I took off the green, sweat-stained t-shirt with USMC blazoned proudly across the chest and slipped it over his head. He beamed as he straightened it out until it reached to about his knees. He would probably be the only dude on his block to have one—and that gave me an idea. I asked him for his address but wouldn't tell him why. Before we parted, I asked him to tell his father at the end of their talk that night that I thought he was one lucky man. I mussed his hair one last time, gave him a manly slug in the shoulder, and sent him inside and out of my life forever.

On the way back to the car, I passed a military shop and went in to see what they had. I found a flak jacket and red t-shirts with the Corps seal on them in gold, both in Joey's size. They would be waiting for him when the family got back to Nebraska. Now that I had a kid to shop for, he would get presents now and again from odd parts of the world. He wasn't mine, but that wouldn't keep me from pretending a little. I had no idea how his parents would feel about his having all this junior jock Marine shit, but I didn't really give a fuck. If I knew anything about Joey, I was sure he would be tough enough that a few parental objections wouldn't keep him from being cool. I also made up my mind to sit Trent down for a talk.

As I tossed his gear into my trunk, it occurred to me that the kid didn't even know my name, any more than I knew Sam's real name. To Joey, I would always be the big, friendly marine who had helped him out. I sort of liked it that way. I would live on, changeless, frozen forever in the amber of his memory as a friend when he had needed one. That's not as good as being a father, but it isn't a bad beginning, either. □

HUMILIATION

A (Possibly) Dangerous Game...

by Race Bannon

Humiliation is an area of SM play that is difficult to describe in technical terms. There are correct ways to tie someone up, correct ways to whip, correct ways to pierce, etc. But there have been no such guidelines established for humiliation scenes. Why? Because humiliation takes place entirely in the mind and mind games are difficult to analyze in technical terms.

As a result, people who engage in humiliation scenes are pretty much on their own when figuring out how to do it. They do what seems right and hope for the best. That may be dangerous because you may be dealing with your partner's self-esteem issues. If you inadvertently damage that self-esteem, you're doing your partner a great disservice.

There is a psychological phenomenon called "hypnosis." Hypnosis is often used in a therapeutic setting to help people with certain kinds of problems. When a person is put in a hypnotic state by a trained professional, that person's conscious mind shuts down temporarily, allowing direct access to the subconscious mind.

The conscious mind is that part of the brain that uses rational and logical processes to screen information being presented to it. It helps a person decide whether to accept an idea or not. The subconscious mind, however, will accept any idea presented to it as fact, without any screening process. So, under hypnosis, one can present an idea to the hypnotized person and it will be accepted without question. This is a very simplified explanation, but it will suffice for our purposes here.

In order to accomplish hypnosis, the person being hypnotized must perceive the person hypnotizing him in a certain way. A certain rapport must exist. There must be a high degree of respect (a Bottom's respect for a Top), a belief that hypnosis is possible (as a Bottom believes in his Top's abilities), an expectation that hypnosis will happen

(the Bottom expects a great scene), an adequate level of suggestibility (the Bottom does what the Top orders), and the imagination must be engaged (imagination is one of the cornerstones of great SM). In other words, a good Top fits the profile of one who can hypnotize someone.

And the hypnotic state can not only happen in the more quiet and sensual scenes (mummification?), but also in heavier SM scenes. As Bernard C. Gindes, M.D. states in his book New Concepts of Hypnosis, "...terror and pain produce a state analogous to hypnosis."

Often someone who has had a great SM scene will describe it as an altered state of consciousness. Whether the scene is a soft and sensual one or a heavy torture scene, this altered state of consciousness is a common result. I contend that this state is not so unlike the hypnotic state.

What this means is that a Top in such a scene can present ideas to the Bottom and those ideas will be accepted by the Bottom's subconscious as fact. In other words, while a Top is whipping his Bottom and yelling humiliating phrases at him, that Bottom might be accepting those phrases as fact. The Bottom comes out of such a scene less than when in. This is certainly not safe and sane play. The danger here is obvious.

Now, not all SM scenes reach these altered states. And in most scenes where such states are reached they are not present throughout the scene. What this means is that the Top must be acutely aware of the Bottom so that when the Bottom reaches such states the messages he gives that Bottom can be constructed accordingly.

I know this view will be controversial, and I don't pretend that what I am presenting here is provable. But I do think it suggests cause for serious consideration to how to handle humiliation scenes.

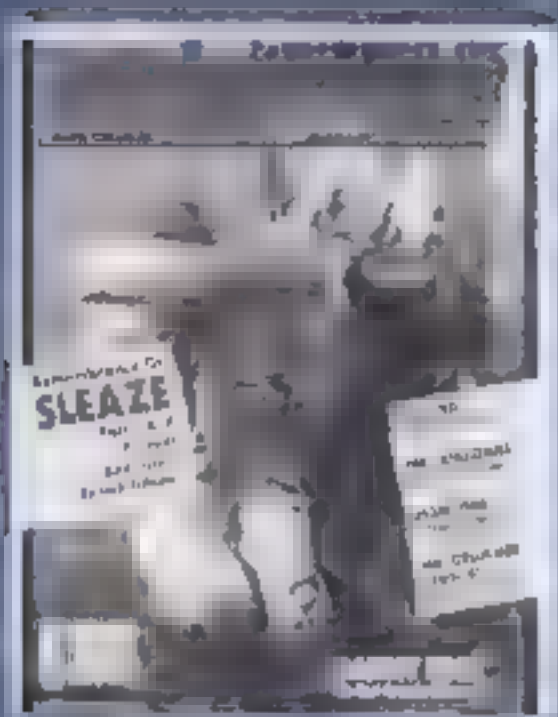

The fact is many people enjoy humiliation as part of their erotic play. They probably always have and probably always will. But that doesn't mean we can't make them safer for all concerned.

I would appreciate other points of view. This is new territory for discussion and I know there are bright people out there who have something to say. Let's hear from you.

Editor's Note: It has been my contention for a long time, expressed in my Leathersex newspaper columns among other places, that verbal scenes are dangerous. So, I will take up the subject Race Bannon has opened here by publishing my Verbal Abuse piece soon. But, the subject cannot be fully explored by the two of us. Please, let's have your comments as well. If you don't feel up to a full scale Rough Stuff of your own, write a letter or note. As Race says, this is a new topic deserving of exploration, in fact, vitally needing to be discussed. --

TWO PLUS TWO PLUS TWO = ONE MEDIA BONANZA

by Joseph W. Bean

Book 1: On Leather Contests

Isn't it strange how people who "need no introduction" always get the elaborate, fanfare-style intros? It is, and... Guy Baldwin—Mr National Leather Association 1989, International Mr. Leather 1989, an SM-positive psychotherapist, and a frequent contributing writer for Drummer and other publications—has now written a remarkable book, one that very few other people could have written, one that no one is better qualified to write: The Leather Contest Guide, A Handbook for Promoters, Contestants, Judges, and Titleholders. After all, there can't possibly be an aspect of the leather contest that Baldwin hasn't become involved with, and his titles are a pretty good indication that he does the contest thing well.

Baldwin's "Guide" is, in fact, even more than its long-winded subtitle suggests. While it may safely be said that everyone directly involved in any facet of a leather title-awarding contest could benefit from reading this book, its information, insights, and commentary are of much broader interest than that. Any leather contest spectator who ever wondered how the judges could possibly have chosen Leatherman A over the "obvious winner," Leatherman C, will find credible answers here in the explanations Baldwin gives of the judging systems and criteria in use. Anyone who ever asked himself what these contestants get out of the whole process—that is, why do they do it?—will find a dozen reasonable answers scattered throughout the book, all leading back over and over to the opportunity to move into a leadership position in the community, and to have their voices and messages heard.

There are no sexy tangents, no J/O digressions, no clever fictions in "Guide." It is a serious and comprehensive examination of the possibilities and limitations of leather contests. It questions what is questionable, praises what is praiseworthy, and explains what is explainable. Not everyone will agree with everything Baldwin says, and we're not just talking conclusions here, but mostly the book is facts, just the facts, backed up with memos, letters, and other kinds of real-world examples.

Perhaps the final questions about The Leather Contest Guide ought to be 1) Is it useful? 2) Is it enjoyable? And, 3) Does it matter? The answers are: 1) Yes, it is very useful, even though future editions, altered by the responses this one gets, will be even more useful. 2) Sort of. It is enjoyable in the way that such a facts-first book can be. And, 3) Yes! It matters very much that such a book—a necessary book—has been written, and by the right person.

The Leather Contest Guide (spiral bound, 116 pages) is available from Desmodus, Inc. for $15.00 per copy (See ordering instructions on page 29.)

Book 2: The Original Masochist

Do people still read Leopold von Sacher-Masoch's classic novels? Have you read Venus in Furs, for instance? Actually, despite the fact that his imagery is considered the seminal vision of masochism, and his name provided us with the word masochism, I suspect that the number of gay leathermen who have read anything by von Sacher-Masoch is very small. Too bad. The books are good, they are twisted enough to tie even a warped mind in knots, and they are kept in print. Now, however, there is a way to get yourself interested enough to undertake what might seem the odious task of reading von Sacher-Masoch. You can start by getting to know the man, as described by his wife of ten years, the original Venus in furs, Wanda von Sacher-Masoch.

From all indications, Wanda's story is told pretty straight. It jives in all the major and checkable points with what is known to be true of the master-masochist's life. And, interestingly, it gives a disarmingly unpretentious net of real-life underpinning for the supposed fictions von Sacher-Masoch wrote.

The book we're talking about here as a primer for reading von SM's own work is The Confessions of Wanda von Sacher-Masoch. The history of the manuscript is as interesting as the woman, and perhaps as convoluted as the life of von SM himself. Let it suffice here to say that the book, although written some time before, was first delivered to a publisher in France in 1907. It was promptly published, but has never before appeared in an English translation. Why? That is a facet of the mystery, partially answered by the narrative Wanda spreads before the reader.

Madame de SM's book is full of famous and infamous people of the fin de siècle, corruption in high places trickling down to the lowest places, strangeness and strangers, weirdness and weirdos... Madame's book stands as an indictment of the social systems of her day, of the anti-feminism that infected even many women, of the conditions that made it possible for her masochistic husband to compel her to Top him with every sort of whip and degradation.

In short, the book as translated here is an exciting, even irresistible tale to which the luster of von SM's name is not essential at all. You'd enjoy Wanda's writing and her subjects anyway but, given the connections... Well, read it. You'll love it, and then—as it seems to me—you'll feel comfortably compelled to read a book or two of von Sacher-Masoch's too.

The Confessions of Wanda von Sacher-Masoch is published by REsearch in a 126 page, large-format, paper cover edition, with mood-illustrating photographs by Christine Alicino. Available from Desmodus Inc. at $13.99 per copy (See ordering instructions on page 29.)

Mag 1: Added European Attraction

A Drummer reader in Hastings-on-Hudson, New York, appreciated the European Media Sampler in issue 147, and wrote to tell me about a number of publications that were overlooked in that Drummedia feature. Admittedly, some (mentioned in this letter and not) I knew about but chose not to mention, as I continue to choose not to mention them. But one of the mags in this letter was entirely new to me: Centurion, a Dutch mag for SM gay men. This mag doesn't suffer from the over-emphasis of scat as many other Euro-mags do (although it has a fair share anyway), but it does rather suffer (in the view of most USA readers, I think) from being published in Dutch. Nonetheless, Centurion #32, the only copy I've seen so far, is very hot. A big, hard cock, attached to a leather-chapped bod is featured on the cover (Wish we could put cocks on our covers... Hmmmph!)

Inside Centurion, there are other wonders. A couple of Martin of Holland drawings, including one of foot-fucking pictures of filthy, straw-stabled, boytoy animals; lots of contact personals, many with photos, from men as young as 17 and others four times as old; wonderful photographs of an upside-down suspension scene, ball torture, and a very inspiring post-bondage technique, as well as my personal fave, a blindfolded man with weight hanging from his balls and his hands tied overhead who has been holding a burning candle in his mouth for quite a while as evidenced by the still-growing crust of wax on his hard cock... Yyow! Oh, and there are several other super bondage photos not otherwise described. Wish I could muddle through enough of the Dutch to tell you what Centurion has to say, but 55 pictures are worth (at 1,000 words a piece) the average modern novel, only better.

Whether you may or may not be allowed to see Centurion is in the hands of the US Postal Authorities (or your own cleverness, perhaps), but here's the editorial office address. The Doma Society Postbus 93506, 2509 AM The Hague, Holland.

Mag 2: New Addition in Europe

While Centurion has been around for a long time (32 plus issues) and should have been noticed, I am unembarrassed about missing the newer German publication magnus. Now that I have seen it, I can tell you it's a good, strong piece of general-interest gay publishing, and I expect it to stand proudly beside France's Gai Pied and Italy's Babilonia for years to come. The magazine is in the realm of news, reviews, events and ideas, rather than the area of head-on erotica. It has, all the same, a very marked sex-positive attitude and a safer-sex slant. If you read German, and especially if you're planning a visit to Germany, you really ought to look at magnus.

Foreign subscriptions (meaning non-German) are sold for DM99.60. The address is magnus, Zeitschriftenverlags-GmbH, Monumentenstrasse 33/34, Postfach 62 05 60, 1000 Berlin 62, Germany. Single issue prices for foreign mailing are not given in the magazine, but you might want to especially ask about the April 1990 issue which is Leather-themed.

Tape 1: Perfect Punks

For the most part, I look at sex videos in search of SM, pretty much yawning my way through the vanilla, hoping to run into a crunchy bit or two along the way. The SM producers (like Marathon and Zeus) seldom disappoint me. The rest of the industry seldom thrills me. (You're maybe in the same boat, Yes?) Get set for one of the rare thrills in the not-SM category. MotorPunks, a film by Danny Droid, distributed by AVG, is great!

MotorPunks is a beautiful mix of leather sexuality, sucking, fucking, swatting, tattoos, piercings, stunning young bodies with unforgettable butts and dicks, and rough settings. There is no real plot, none needed, and the few little bits of voice over are so badly recorded that they can't possibly be understood anyway. It's something about a club, something about "tasty scum," I think. But it's nothing that matters. The hot bods and the freewheeling, go-getting, slurp-it-up action... that's what "Punks" is about.

At no point do you get the feeling anyone had to tell any of these guys what to wear, what to do with/to whom, or when to do it. They're into it, going for it, and enjoying it all, which can have only one predictable result: We get into it, go for it, and enjoy it all. Almost all the action, although framed by shots of one leatherboy jerking off, is three or more guys in eager orgasmic action together. Mouths and hands, cocks and asses, collared necks and harnessed chests dive and surface like fish at play—sometimes, maybe, at work would be a more appropriate description.

There is definitely enough leather here to please the average leather lover. There is enough power play here to satisfy the needs of the Tops/bottoms guys. There is almost always a condom for fucking... you decide on that one. And there is no let up in the action.

This is a tape to use with your own musical accompaniment (if only to avoid the garbled speeches that crop up from time to time). And it is a tape you won't want to use up on a once-through viewing. Get off to it six or eight times by shooting with the punks, and setting aside the tape as it moves from scene to scene.

I owe you the whole truth, of course.

The last scene—something about a new guy joining the "club" or not—is weaker by far than the rest of the tape. Still good, but only good after several scenes of incredible.

Tape 2: Clothes Calls for Men

BIC Productions, otherwise known as BiCoastal, does its own thing. Chances are that their thing is also your thing if you think big, hot men—often furry and/or muscular—benefit from the wearing of leather and uniforms. After seeing several of their tapes, I don't feel like particularly pointing out one over another since the choice should be a matter of your taste in body types, and—all the more—your taste in uniforms and clothing.

Nonetheless, here is a sort of blow by blow of one I really enjoyed: The opening is a reminder about Safe Sex which says that what you need to be set for action is "a condom, a water-based lubricant, and a BIC production." Then we cut to the action, no dilly-dallying about a story.

Two dicks, two suckers. "Suck that big Italian dick... suck that big bear dick... suck yer daddy's dick..." The Tops are white, one muscular and leather-clad, the other a lubby (but hot) bear in a generic law enforcement uniform, not fetish-perfect for any force. The bottoms are a black guy in leather and a white one in uniform garb. Both bottoms suck both Tops, and the uniform Top eventually sucks the leather Top as well. Anyone who isn't sucking or being sucked at any given moment still exists—it blows me away the way people disappear and pop back into existence in some videos—but here, the "extra guys" are watching and adding their heat to the scene.

As I said, your choice about which BIC production you need, along with your condom, water-based lubricant, and partner, is hard. I have a feeling, in fact, that if any BIC product gets you there, all of them will.

If clothes add more than they detract, that is, if they can add more to your response to an already hot man, check out the BIC tapes. Several are available from Desmodus. They're $59.95 each, and here are some sample titles: Cop Abduction, Trucker's Lunch, Copnapped, and Leatherman Toy II.

March on Washington in Planning Stages

Planning meetings for a March on Washington for lesbian and gay rights have gotten as far as deciding that the next such march will take place in April of 1993. That may sound far off in the future, but it is not. The amount of planning and preparation required could hardly be completed successfully any sooner.

At the first March on Washington for lesbian and gay rights, leather was prominently visible. The list of participating groups working on the planning of the upcoming march, however, mentions no leather organizations at all. "Present at the two-day event," reads the press release about the planning session in Washington, DC, "were many leading figures in the struggle for lesbian and gay rights, including principals of The Names Project, Black and White Men Together, National Minority AIDS Council, Parents and Friends of Lesbians and Gays, National Organization for Women, National Coalition of Black Lesbians and Gays, Gay and Lesbian Alliance Against Defamation, National Gay and Lesbian Law Association, Queer Nation, Metropolitan Community Church, The National Lesbian and Gay Task Force, The Human Rights Campaign Fund, ACT UP, and representatives of groups from 22 states, from Florida to Alaska."

If you were there, if your leather organization was represented at the planning meeting, please, let us hear from you. Keep us posted about leather community involvement in this very important national event. If you were not there, if your leather organization was not represented, get in touch with the organizers and see what can be done to correct the situation.

The next planning session is set to take place in Chicago on August 3. At that time, the steering committee and working groups will be established. Obviously a leather/SM presence is essential by the time of the Chicago meeting.

Those interested in attending the Chicago meeting are urged to contact the M.O.W. Interim Planning Committee by calling 1-800-832-2889 or writing NGLTF, 1734 14th Street NW, Washington, DC, 20009-4309.

Tarheel's Leather Club Celebrates First Anniversary

The Tarheel Leather Club—famous in its first year for spearheading the Beat Jesse (Helms) campaign—has survived its hardest year... the first one.

To celebrate the landmark, the club is putting together a Fourth of July four-day weekend, July 4-7, called Stars and Stripes in Leather. (Does that make you think of "seeing stars" and "leaving red stripes" at all?) They are inviting groups and individuals to become involved in their celebration by hosting specific events during the weekend. Exactly what a host or host organization for one of the 16 planned events will do, they don't say. But, if you're interested, you can check it all out by calling 1-800-277-9933 or writing to T. L. C., P. O. Box 16457, Greensboro, NC 27416-0457.

Of course, you might just want to attend the celebration. The phone number and address above will get you the information you need for that as well.

Among the leather celebs already slated to be partying with TLC are Dave Rhodes, editor of The Leather Journal.

Christopher Rage Dead at 42... That's Obscene

On April 24, Christopher Rage, the great genius of raunchy video, died of AIDS-related complications at his home in Manhattan.

Every life shattered by AIDS is a crime as well as a tragedy. Governments and public institutions will be found guilty of monstrous neglect and inexcusable judgement (or much worse) when this epidemic finally takes its place in history. Just about everyone knows that by now, and still the toll rises, the dying continues at a rate that makes all the efforts against the disease seem nothing more than throwing a pail of water at a sandstorm. But when the storm takes certain people, people who are particularly public, brilliantly sexual, exceptionally talented—people like Christopher Rage—the terror of our situation is driven home with an especially painful power.

Every AIDS death is an obscenity. But with the deaths of men like Rage—men who will be missed by so many of us for so long, the rip in the fabric of our cultural life is as great as the loss we feel on another level when we lose a close friend or lover.

Frederick Mongue, aka Tray Christopher, aka Christopher Rage may never have thought to compare himself with Lenny Bruce. He may never have realized how significantly he contributed to the war on deadly prudery. He may only have written music, and acted and sung and produced videos because that is what the muses demanded of him. That in fact, is how a thing is done so brilliantly, by being not what you choose for yourself, but what you cannot resist doing.

From Best of the Superstars (1981), Rage's first directorial effort on video, to Sex Junkies (1991), his last, he stretched his skills with each new release, collecting critical praise and awards as well as tremendous success with viewers. What now? Now, until time squeezes the Rage-work into a solid piece for me to appreciate as one "thing," I ache. Until I find someone whose art, by its sexual audacity, creates another place in me like the one created by Rage (no one will fill the place left vacant by his passing), I will be angry. Until this whole outrageous episode of dying stops, I will keep kicking at the bigots who celebrate and are (at least morally) responsible for the deaths. I don't know what else I can do.

Christopher Rage, dead. How dare they! (At his request, there will be no funeral or memorial service.)

CROSS ROADS

LEATHERMEN MEET

By placing an ad in this section, a bar or other business is telling you that they welcome Leathermen.

By accepting their ad, Drummer is telling you that the bar has been recommended by a Leather/SM club or a recognized individual in the community as a good place to meet and socialize with other Leathermen. In larger cities, these will be THE leather bars. In other areas, they will be the more general purpose bars where Leathermen do go to socialize.

Help us to alert Drummer readers and travelers to the RIGHT place to go to meet Leathermen in your part of the world. Send us your recommendations and talk to the right bar owners and managers about placing one of these low priced ads. If you see a business listed here that you think shouldn't be, let us know about that, too.

Sounds like TLC just about has a corner on the entire Fourth of July weekend this year. But, no. Lots of other stuff is going on that weekend, including the third Pipettes Benefit in Memphis, TN, The Rocky Mountaineers' Golden Fleece Run XX, and the SouthEastern Lesbian & Gay Conference in Baltimore

Deaf Leathermen to Select International Mr. Leather Representative

On Friday, July 5, 1991, history will be made: The Rainbow Alliance of the Deaf will sponsor a contest to select the first ever Mr. Deaf International Leather. The winner of the contest will then be sent to the International Mr. Leather contest in Chicago, in 1992, giving the holder of the new title about ten months to show his stuff and develop as a representative of his special community before he puts it all on the line along with about 50 other contestants.

This will be first title we have heard of going specifically to a deaf leatherman, but deaf guys have been doing pretty well in some other contests and leather community organizations lately. We're planning a feature about deaf leathermen and, perhaps more interesting, deaf SM players. Please, let us hear from you if you have anything to contribute on this subject

Meantime, the contest: The sponsors are Deaf Leather and SM Outreach and 1991 RAD-International Deaf Lesbian and Gay Conference Planning Committee. The event begins with a Champagne Welcome Party and leather auction on July 4, 10 PM, at the Ripcord (Dallas). The actual contest will take place at Loews Anatole Hotel on the 5th, performed in American Sign Language with voice interpretation for the hearing audience. There will be leather fantasies, a leather jock showing of the contestants, and the usual questioning of hopefuls.

If you want to attend (or enter) the contest for which tickets are just $10 in advance and $15 at the door, write 1991 Mr. Deaf International Leather, c/o 1991 RAD-IDLG Conference, Dallas Rainbow Alliance for the Deaf, P. O. Box 225661,

Mr. Leather New Orleans 91

The Krewe of Lords of Leather sponsored the 1991 Mr. Leather New Orleans contest on April 13, and they came up with a real winner—John Wilson.

The Master of Ceremonies for the contest was International Mr. Leather Mark Ryan. Mark, Mr. UK Drummer Glenn Marsh, and the new Mr. Leather New Orleans were guests of honor at a seafood boil held Sunday to cap the weekend-long events.

For next year, Lords of Leather are upping the ante for themselves by calling their contest period a New Orleans Leather Weekend. Good luck, guys, the more cities we celebrate in the more fun there is to be had by all.

What in the World?

Before we get into any of the news about gay people from other countries of the world, there is a major issue facing gay men and women all over the world: The attitude of Amnesty International toward people imprisoned because of the sexual orientation. The fact is that Amnesty has refused to "adopt" cases of people whose sole crime was being gay, and they have demonstrated a very pronounced coolness toward even noticing political prisoners who happen to be gay.

This September top-level Amnesty officials will meet in Yokohama, Japan, and—among other things—will reconsider the anti-homosexual bigotry they perpetuate while doing so much other work that is respectable and good.

Let Amnesty International know that there are a lot of us out here who believe that the torture and imprisonment of gay men and women by governments and government agencies is reprehensible, and that having an agency such as AI reject the cases of people because they are gay is also reprehensible. Write to Amnesty International USA, National Office, 322 Eighth Avenue New York, NY 10001.

AUSTRALIA: More than 150,000 people turned out to see Sydney's 14th annual Gay & Lesbian Mardi Gras Parade, a gala of lights and costumes, on February 16.

CANADA: Safe sex information using such subversive words as cock cum fucking, and sucking, is causing quite an uproar on college campuses all across the country. An article, first published in The Muse at Memorial University in St. John's, Newfoundland, has been reprinted in campus newspapers in several other provinces, with dreadful effects everywhere. Publications offices have been locked up, newspaper workers have been fired and/or called on to resign, etc.

What the eventual outcome may be, we can't possibly guess since questions of free speech always get so tangled up with other questions when colleges and other government-funded organizations become involved. Meantime, three cheers (and whatever other support we can muster) go to the many campus editors up North who put it all on the line in support of gay men, sexual freedom, and freedom of the press. They have, at least, set excellent examples for us all.

And, gay rights bills all across the country are also faring pretty well. Wouldn't it feel strange to find the college campuses taking a back seat to local governments in the granting of basic human rights to gay humans?

HONG KONG: Despite the fact that time is running out for Hong Kong which will revert to Chinese ownership before the end of the century, a change is in the works there. Gay sex is now punishable by a sentence of life imprisonment in the British Colony. If the measure currently being considered passes (as it almost certainly will) the sentence will be reduced to absolutely nothing by the outright legalization of gay sex. This is sure to be seen as a complication by the soon-to-resume Chinese landlords. (See below.)

CHINA: Officially, in China, there is no such thing as a homosexual. To the officials there, homosexuality is something some strange people in other countries might do, but being Chinese and homosexual is simply a contradiction in terms. Nonetheless, the government is undertaking a program to test 3 million citizens for HIV. They say they just want to get a picture of the spread of the disease in their country. They also say that the virus will obviously be found among drug users.

SOUTH AFRICA: It is most strange and distressing that the case of Winnie Mandela, charged with kidnaping and torturing four men suddenly stopped including any reference in the media or the courtroom to what reasons she may have had for hating and hurting the men. If you missed the facts before they began to be covered up so effectively: She believed the men to be gay. Maybe they are. Just thought you ought to know, and doubted your local daily was telling you.

SWITZERLAND: It is confusing that "you win some and you lose some" can so often mean winning and losing the same battles at the same time. Gays might be glad if a country chooses to use the work of a famously gay artist in a campaign to celebrate its anniversary, but...

Swiss officials intend to use a Keith Haring painting to promote the country's 700th birthday, and gay people in the enclave of banking and pacifism are outraged. Now, they wonder, can the same government be so anti-gay, so obviously dedicated to the proposition that all HIV+ people are to be discriminated against, and still use Haring's work. After all, not only was Haring gay, but he also died of complications from AIDS.

EAST MEETS WEST: The ebb and flow of public opinion is always interesting (although one wonders about its actual significance sometimes). In the US, polls keep showing a very strong swing in public opinion toward "leaving homosexuals alone" or accepting that we have the ordinary rights of citizenship. Probably as much a matter of being bored of the issue as anything. Meantime, in Eastern Europe where the issue is new/news in public view, polls are coming up with very different numbers. In the USSR, for example, a Moscow poll showed that 33.7% of the respondents thought gays should be destroyed, 31% wanted gays isolated from all other citizens. What the remaining 35.3% thought was not reported.

And, the fledgling gay rights groups of Eastern Europe are already experiencing Western-style splintering of their organizations, more on this subject next month.

Toilet Trainee

I was pleasantly surprised when I stopped by the construction site to pick up my neighbor, Buddy d' Annunzio, to find him cheerfully smiling and obviously in a good humor. The building he was working on was only a few blocks from the office where I worked so we had been car pooling for the last month and a half. Truth to tell, I would have driven him to work even if it had meant going miles out of my way. Buddy was the kind of hot, butch stud who inspired lusty fantasies to run riot in my head. The wedding ring on his large, square hand suggested that he would be off-limits as far as any real hanky-panky, but I still enjoyed looking, and fantasizing. Those morning and evening car rides, with his massive, muscular body sprawled in the passenger seat next to me, the musky, sweaty smell of him enveloping me as I tried to concentrate on the driving, inevitably left me with a stiff dick and aching nuts.

For several days, now, I couldn't help but notice he had seemed uncharacteristically depressed and grim as we drove to and from the construction site. With a little prodding, I had learned that the reason for his low spirits had to do with a situation at work. The boss' son, a nineteen year old pampered and arrogant jock, had taken over as a foreman, replacing a genuinely admired and respected veteran.

"What makes it even worse," Buddy confided to me, "is that the kid doesn't know shit about construction work, but insists on ordering the guys around in the most insulting ways imaginable. Guys twice his age and with ten times more experience." Buddy heaved a sigh and shook his head slowly. "It's really fucked up the morale, that's for sure."

So, as I said, finding him smiling and whistling a jaunty tune was quite unexpected. When I questioned him about the sudden change that had come about, he merely smiled that crooked, little-boy grin and said, somewhat mysteriously, "Oh, we've got that situation well taken care of."

"Glad to hear it, Buddy," I chuckled, "I was beginning to worry about you guys turnin' into permanent sourpusses."

He gave me a playful little punch on the arm, and with a shyness quite endearing in so large and virile a man said, "Sorry I was such lousy company the last few days, Stu. Thanks for puttin' up with me."

"No sweat, pal... that's what friends are for," I replied lightly, "Say, are you just about ready to go?"

"Yeah, I'll just be a couple of minutes."

"OK. Meet me at the car. I gotta go take a leak." I turned and started walking toward where I knew the porta-pottie had been set up.

Buddy grabbed my arm, stopping me in my tracks. "Not that way," he grinned mischievously, "We got us a new toilet."

Mystified, I followed him around the half-finished building to a path that had been worn in the shrubs and grass at the rear of the yard. I noticed a few other of the burly construction workers were walking down the same path, and some were coming back, smiling and buttoning up the flies on their well worn levis.

As we stepped through a break in the dense foliage, I gasped in amazement at the sight that greeted my unbelieving eyes.

A makeshift, double urinal had been set up on a kind of low, wooden sawhorse. Beneath this arrangement, a shallow pit had been dug, and lying in this pit was a hunky blond jock, totally naked, and trussed up like a small package. His knees were against his chest, secured there by sturdy ropes, his ankles tied together, his sleekly muscled arms bound behind his back. In this humiliating position, the young blond's succulent rump was pointed skyward, the creamy white buns gleaming like porcelain against the expensive looking tan that covered the rest of his nude body.

The most astounding element in this bizarre tableau was the drain pipes that led from the urinals, one of them firmly embedded in the young athlete's asshole, the other one plugged into his handsome mouth. Thus, any piss deposited in the urinals would flow into the kid's gut.

And it was obvious that the construction crew had been most generous in their use of this human toilet. The kid's lips and jaw dripped rivulets of hot foamy piss, and more of the steamy yellow liquid soaked his asshole and balls. The excess urine had collected in the pit, so that the gorgeous, teen-age body was lying in a pool of piss-mud.

"Meet Alan, our foreman," Buddy laughed. "Or I should say our ex-foreman. I think the boss' son has decided to quit, and give the job back to Canfield."

The stinking, piss-soaked jock nodded his head as much as he was able and made some pathetic, strangled sounds barely identifiable as a desperate "Yessir... yessir... anything you say, sir...", his baby blue eyes filling with tears as he pleaded through the pipe.

I leaned toward Buddy and in a worried whisper I protested, "But surely he'll tell his dad when

Editor's Note: We wish very much that we could show you Etienne's treatment of the asshole above taking the plumbing. We can't. The censors and their friends would pull Drummer off the stands in several states if we did. Use your imagination, and put your votes to work, too, to change this ridiculous situation.

you let him go... the police... I mean."

A hard look came into Buddy's eyes and his strong square jaw clenched. "I don't think so. There are a lot worse things than piss that can be deposited into toilets, if you know what I mean." This was said loud enough for the miserable toilet boy to hear, and he moaned pitifully, his face draining of color as full comprehension of the threat sank in.

"What about it, junior," Buddy smirked at Alan. "Think you've learned your lesson? Gonna be a good boy from now on?"

Through the pipe jammed in his mouth, Alan's muffled reply brought a smile of satisfaction to Buddy's face. "Yessir... yessir... I will. I'll be a good boy. I promise... just let me go, please."

"Sure, kid," Buddy chuckled. "But first I gotta take me one last piss."

I watched with wide-eyed fascination as my brawny neighbor unbuttoned his fly, whipped out a thick, semi-hard cock, and unloaded a torrent of hot man's piss into the urinal plugged into Alan's asshole. The teenaged stud closed his eyes and moaned as he felt the scalding liquid rush up his rectum like a hot, garden hose enema.

I felt almost sorry for the kid. But, what the hell... he had behaved like a spoiled rich kid brat, and I still had to take that piss. And there was another piss-bowl just waiting to be used. The thought of force feeding my urine to some handsome arrogant jock was strangely exciting.

I grinned as I began to unbutton my 501s. "Sorry, kid," I said, "but when you gotta go, you gotta go."

Rob Roy's ROX BEARS

Rob Roy began painting his bears in the late 80's. He sees them as butch icons which enable him to communicate the warmth that exists between leathermen, a factor of leather relationships that he feels is misunderstood by the larger community.

"There is a lack of pretense here. The bears cut through the bullshit and communicate real directly."

JOSE

Story by
Ruben Lopez

Illustrated by
T. J. Moore

The first sound that I heard was the knock on the door. I got up from the sofa where I had fallen asleep reading the latest issue of Drummer.

When I opened the door, there he stood. Black 501s, cowboy boots and a black, tight-fitting undershirt.

He walked familiarly to the refrigerator and grabbed the bottle of Tecate that he knew would be sitting there. I closed the door, quietly, almost afraid to let him hear it.

Jose walked back into the living room and immediately ordered me to sit on the floor. I obeyed. "You didn't throw away any of my clothes, did you?"

"No, I boxed everything up, except your leather, which is still in the closet."

He sat quietly for a moment. The beer bottle at his lips, he drank for a second, then spoke. "Kneel before me, slavemeat." My heart raced with thoughts of what kind of scene he had planned for me. "Come over here, between my legs." As I maneuvered into place, his strong arms reached around behind me and held me tight.

He began to release his grip on me as he brought one hand around and opened his belt, and undid the buttons of his pants. "Take my dick out and suck it, suck it till it's hard." I jumped to the task, worked the big thing free and started to work on the massive head.

"I hate to admit when I've been wrong," he said as I glanced up at him, still sucking, "but I sure made a mistake when we first got together."

I wasn't sure if I should stop sucking to comment, but he continued to talk. "I should have demanded that you call me Master or Sir from the very beginning. None of this honey, darling, vanilla bullshit. You're nothing but a cocksucking, pussy-assed slave."

As Jose spoke, his cock got harder and a bit of pre-cum flowed from the tip onto my tongue. He pushed me off him, then lifted his right leg and bashed the cowboy boot into my face.

"Now, get up and haul your dead ass into the bedroom. I'm about to show you what it is you've been asking for for almost two years."

I got up. Then he arose and grabbed me by the back of the head. We went into the bedroom and he ordered me to strip.

I was breathing like a scared person, on the verge of tears. But was I scared? I noticed that I had started to get an erection. "After you get those clothes off, get on your knees in front of me, asshole."

I obeyed, not hesitating for even a second. Jose stood over me as I knelt, naked on the bedroom floor. "You fucker, I put up with your domestic shit long enough." He pulled his belt free of his pants and whacked me across the back. "Your damned 'what time will you be home from work'." Whack! "Your 'what do you want for dinner'." Whack, even harder. "And 'are we going to make love tonight?'" Whack, across my ass, just nicking my low-hanging balls.

"What the hell did you think we were, Ward and June fucking Cleaver?" Jose started to alternate the blows onto my left and right ass cheeks. Constant, harder each time. Then he stopped.

"Suck me off, asshole. Suck it like you never did before. Suck my unwashed Mexican dick, and love it, fucker, love it."

I found myself working his dick and licking every inch of it. Then I was sucking him till I filled my mouth with hot cum. "Swallow it, damn you. Swallow your Master's cum."

After I swallowed it, he grabbed my hair and pulled my head back so that I was looking up at him. "Thank your Master for allowing you the privilege of tasting his man juice."

"Thank you, Sir." I almost couldn't believe that those words came out of me. So natural, so comfortable. "Please, Sir, order me to do what you want me to do. Order me, Sir. Beat me for disobeying you, Sir. Please, Sir. Please, Sir. Please, Sir!"

"Ruben, honey, you're screaming. Ruben, wake up."

"Oh, Jose, I'm sorry. I must have been dreaming."

Jose sat up in the bed and looked over at me. "That's the second time this week you've had a nightmare."

"Nightmare?" I asked. "That was no nightmare, Jose."

"Well, it sure sounded like that to me." Jose looked at me like I was crazy or something.

"You're something, Ruben. After two years together, don't you think I know you by now?"

INTERNATIONAL FINALS

On September 17 the winners of the 19 regional contests listed above will gather in San Francisco for the series of events that will culminate in the international finals of the Mr. Drummer Contest. We had hoped to return to the Warfield Theater, site of the 1989 Mr. Drummer finals, but that grand old theater has proven prohibitively expensive. So we will again return to Club Townsend, site of the 1990 finals.

Again this year the contest will include two days of activities. On Friday the regional Mr. Drummers will bare it all, or at least most, for the Jock Strap portion of the competition and several of the Drummerboys will be presenting their fantasy performances. On Saturday the 19 regional Mr. Drummers will present their hot, erotic fantasies and the awards will be presented. Again this year we will name a Mr. North America Drummer, a Mr. Europe Drummer, and a Mr. South Pacific Drummer as well as the overall winner Mr. Drummer 1991-92.

Other events scheduled for Leather Pride week in San Francisco include an Australia night at the SF Eagle on Monday, Sept. 16; a New Zealand night on Tuesday, and a Meet the Contestants night on Wednesday. Alan Selby will host another of his wild Fetish and Fantasy parties on Thursday night. At the moment, the A.D.S. Emergency Fund, The Tom of Finland Foundation, Mr. S Leathers, The 15 Association, and others are working on plans for other events. The lively week celebrating leather lifestyles will climax on Sunday September 22 with the Folsom Street Fair.

The host hotel this year will be the Pickwick at 85 5th St., on the corner of 5th and Mission, phone 415/ 421-7500 or 800/227-3282 for reservations and/or information. Mr. Drummer finals general admission tickets will be $15 for Friday and $25 for Saturday. VIP tickets are $80, which includes admission to Friday and Saturday events with reserved seating on Saturday, a Mr. Drummer 1991 t-shirt, a three month subscription to Drummer and a three time insertion of a personal ad in Drummer. Seating on Saturday is limited to 400 persons so get your reservations in early. To order tickets, or for further information contact the Drummer offices (phone: 415/252-1195, fax: 415/252-9574).

Several Travel agents are preparing packages for leather men and women attending the Mr. Drummer contest. These are listed in the box at right.

Two Local contests in the Southern California Region

The Mr. LA Drummer contest yielded winner Marc Lowy and First Runner-up Jeff Snyder (top). Both will be eligible to compete in the Mr. S California Regional. John Hare, selected as LA Drummerboy, (bottom) is shown in his fantasy presentation.

Mr. Inland Empire Drummer Brent Jensen, and the Inland Empire Drummerboy, Tony, (top) were selected at a contest at Gents in Pomona. Jeff Snyder, 1RU in LA assisted Tony in his Drummerboy fantasy (bottom).

HOW TO PLACE YOUR AD IN DEAR SIR:

We accept ads and changes to ads only in writing. Sorry we cannot do this over the phone. Submit ads on the form on the facing page or a copy of 1. If you can't bear to cut up your issue of Drummer and can't make photocopies, send us a note and we'll mail you copies of the form.

Box Numbers. $5.00 buys you a Drummer mail box for the life of your ad. Even after your ad expires, we will continue to forward replies forever as long as we keep getting letters. (So keep us posted if you move.)

Give us a name. We cannot forward mail to someone named "Boxholder" at a P.O. Box. The Post Office won't do it.

Phone Numbers. You can put your phone number in your ad for immediate response. WE WILL ONLY PUBLISH VERIFIED PHONE NUMBERS. Here's how to put your phone number in your ad:

Mail in your ad. (Don't forget to include the $2.00 phone verification charge.) About two weeks after you mail to us, you call us at (415) 252-1195, during business hours (9:00am-5:00pm Pacific Time, Mon.-Fri.) Be at the phone number you are placing in your ad. We will call you back to verify the number. If we have not verified your number within three months we will publish the ad with a box number instead of a phone number.

You only need to verify a phone number once. Once it has appeared in Drummer, just attach a copy of the printed ad to your new ad if you wish to use that telephone number again. We will not publish voice-mail service numbers in personal ads. Don't forget to include your area code.

What else? Put anything you want in your ad except references to minors, animals, prostitution, or drugs.

Expect about a 60-day delay from the time we receive your ad to when it appears in print. Remember, it takes time for people to respond, too. So, for example, if you're looking for Christmas presents, it would be smart to send us the ad 90 or 120 days before Christmas. Also remember replies by international mail may take longer than domestic mail.

HOW TO REPLY TO A DEAR SIR AD:

How to reply to a Drummer box number. Answering a Drummer box number is easy, but the few rules we have are hard and fast, so observe them or else: 1.) Seal your letter in an envelope on which you have written the box number on the back flap in pencil. 2.) Put your return address on the envelope. If you wish the letter to be returned to you should there be some problem with delivery. 3.) Put proper postage on the envelope: domestic postage is 25 cents for the first ounce, 20 cents for each additional ounce. Foreign overseas postage is 45 cents for one-half ounce. 4.) Put the sealed letter(s) and a buck ($1.00) forwarding fee for each letter in another envelope and mail it to DESMODUS, INC. PO Box 410390 San Francisco, CA 94141-0390. Letters not properly prepared will be destroyed.

Desmodus will forward responses to ads in back issues. However, we cannot guarantee that old addresses will still be valid. Remember, the U.S. Postal Service will not return undeliverable mail without your return address. Keep in mind that people do move and their needs and desires do change.

Applications are now being accepted for a unique training program for Men. Updating the concept of a Gentleman's Gentleman, graduates of Men's Men Manservant Academy will be familiar with all of the tasks normally associated with titles such as butler, valet, houseboy and chauffeur, and will also be trained in tasks of special interest to Leathermen, e.g. care of leather and rubber boots, clothing and toys, care of the dungeon environment including furniture, equipment and supplies, appropriate subservient behavior in a range of tasks from answering the telephone to serving dinner for guests and all aspects of body service from French to Greek. There will be special emphasis on personal hygiene and care both for yourself and your Master, including massage techniques, erotic and therapeutic. Our objective is to make you the perfect Man's Man in every aspect from selecting the correct wine to serve with dinner to the appropriate technique for handling a foreskin while sucking cock. The training is "on the job." You will serve, and be trained by two experienced Top Men at their country estate in Northern California. You must be willing to contract for three months full time service. At the end of 3 months, training extensions are possible by mutual agreement. Your full room and board will be provided. Outline your economic situation, including how you would find it possible to devote three months full time to the training. ANOTHER HOT DRUMMER/ZEUS S/M VIDEO

U S S M / T H R E E

What do you get when you give two lucky bottoms to one of the hottest Tops in the country? You get Mr Drummer 89/90 Brian Dawson practicing his considerable skill on 90/91 Drummer Boy John Siracusa and Australian studboy Travis Scott. After Mr Drummer hogties, hoods and hauls his boys to a mountain top hide-a-way, we pick up the action as Dawson carries them down into his dungeon. In short order, awesome Dawson has the Drummer Boy stripped out of his rubber traveling gear and spreadeagled naked on his back to an pinned St Andrews Cross. Watching the hirsute Drummer Boy get slapped around and manhandled, just may be enough to get your first wad. But try to hang on as Mr Drummer proceeds to slowly and sadistically cover Boy John's hairy fightbody with liquid fire candle wax. Relying Boy John on his knees with wrists and ankles bound together behind him. Mr Dawson lays on a prolonged full torso whipping on Boy John's tits, cock and bounding balls the HARD way. After chest whipping Boy John to new limits, Mr Dawson turns his attention to his boy toy #2 who has been forced to watch John's session while stripped to a jock strap, head harnessed and Floggermaus bound to a bondage chair. After getting his freshly shaved tits fogged, Travis gets refed to John standing back to back, wrists bound together and stretched high to a ceiling hook. Using a dazzling globe-shaped violet wand, Mr Dawson shoots enough juice to Travis and John's nipple-ringed tits, flared cocks and bounding balls to light up your darkest electro-fantasies. Still wrist having his way, Dawson releases his boys to allow them to thank him properly with some sweaty p f and cock sucking body worship. USSM/THREE is very hot stuff!
